SUMMER EDITION!

Summer always feels full of possibility when you have little ones. Whether it's family days out, camping trips, lighter evenings at the park or simply trying to keep everyone entertained during the school holidays. For us personally, this summer is all about spending more quality family time. Emily and I are looking forward to getting outdoors more with Florence and Aurora, enjoying family adventures and making the most of that summer can sometimes bring.

Inside this issue, we've packed the magazine full of ideas to help make the most of summer across Oxfordshire. You'll find inspiration for days out, local events, activities, discounts, voucher offers on Page 20 and plenty of ideas for keeping little ones busy throughout the holidays. The Daily Activity Planner on and What's on Events Guide continue to be some of the most-used sections in the magazine, helping families discover new places to explore and new activities to enjoy together.

We're also excited to continue growing across the community with our Ambassador Programme. Open to parents and carers who love discovering and sharing family-friendly activities, events and days out. Our ambassadors visit local businesses and attractions, create social content, and help other families find great experiences. In return, they enjoy exclusive opportunities and perks. To join in the fun, visit our website or register www.toddle.fun/ambassadors.

Toddle About LIVE! is just down the road this September, so come along and discover everything our local family community has to offer. Whether you're looking for your child's next favourite class, or simply searching for things to do. Toddle About LIVE! is the perfect place to find support for family life.

As parents ourselves, we truly hope this issue feels helpful, relatable and full of ideas to make family life that little bit easier,

So what are you waiting for.... get stuck in and enjoy the issue!

SUMMER RECIPE:

CHICKEN AND CHEESE MUFFINS

These savoury muffins are a brilliant way of using up left-over chicken from your Sunday roast. They are so easy to make and are perfect for snacks, lunchboxes or picnics for growing little ones.

Ingredients: 100g cooked chicken
2 medium eggs 1 carrot, finely grated
150ml milk ½ tsp oregano
75g melted butter 250g self-raising flour
170g grated cheddar cheese Makes: 12 Muffins

Method:

1. Preheat the oven to 180°C Fan and line a 12-hole muffin tin with silicone muffin cases.
2. Add the eggs, milk and butter to a large bowl and whisk.
3. Add the grated cheese, cooked chicken and grated carrot and mix with a spoon.
4. Finally, add the oregano and flour and mix just enough so that the ingredients are well combined.
5. Divide the mixture between the 12 muffin cases and bake in the oven for 25 minutes.
6. Allow the muffins to cool for a few minutes in the cases before removing.

BEADED DIY WIND CHIME

Brighten up your garden with this easy beaded wind chime craft that's perfect for little hands and big imaginations.

WHAT YOU WILL NEED:

- Lollipop Sticks
- String
- Craft Beads and jingle bells
- Gems/stickers to decorate (optional)
- Glue & Scissors

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Gather your supplies: craft beads, string, lollipop sticks (or sticks), jingle bells, glue, scissors (grown-up use only), and stickers/gems.
2. Tie two sticks together in a cross shape using the colourful string - this is your base.
3. Cut four pieces of string, then thread beads and jingle bells onto each string - as long as you like.
4. Tie these beaded strings onto the sticks, hanging them at different lengths for a fun, varied look.
5. Decorate your wind chime with stickers - flowers, sparkles - whatever you like, let your imagination run wild!
6. Hang your finished wind chime in the garden and enjoy the sounds when they catch the breeze!

THE PATH TO PASSION

YOUR PASSIONS MAKE YOU A BETTER MUM.
HERE'S HOW TO FIND THEM AGAIN.

I know the feeling well. The sense that wanting something for yourself – time, space, an interest that has nothing to do with anyone else's needs – somehow makes you a lesser parent. I felt it too, and it's the reason I started Passion Collective in 2014 when I was navigating new motherhood, a demanding career and wondering how on earth other people managed to keep doing the things they loved. Were they just better at this thing called life?

They weren't. They'd simply stopped waiting for permission.

THE TRUTH ABOUT "MUM GUILT"

The "Mum Guilt" that rears its ugly head whenever we think about – let alone spend time with – our own passions is a sign that we care. That love is rarely something we want to leave behind. However, the guilt is telling us that we've bought into a story that isn't necessarily true; that a good mother always puts herself last, and wanting more is something to be ashamed of.

The research tells a different story. When we engage consistently with what we love (what academics call "harmonious passions"), we're less stressed, more present, and more patient.

BECOME A PROUD DABBLER

The main barrier we all have is time. We are running through our days, and the thought of dedicating a few hours to anything beyond the day-to-day can feel totally out of reach.

This is where "dabbling" comes in – and bear with me, because it gets an unfair reputation!

We tend to think of dabbling as half-hearted, uncommitted, what you faff around with before you find your "real" passion. But in my book, Born to Buzz, I make the case for being a Proud Dabbler: someone who explores with curiosity and without the pressure to excel or turn a hobby into a million-pound side hustle.

Dabbling is how most people actually find what lights them up. It means we don't have to wait for that thunderbolt moment of clarity; we can try a series of small, low-stakes experiments that gradually point us toward our passions.

AN EASY WAY TO START

First, promise yourself you'll allow one hour this weekend to dabble. If you need to, get your spouse to cover, or even book a babysitter for an hour!

Then, start with one thing that makes you even slightly curious. Try it without expectation. If it sparks something, stay with it. If it doesn't, note what you'll do next.

Now, here's the most important step. If you're comfortable, share your dabbling with a friend. Let's say you've got back into knitting, and for that hour, you knitted half a scarf. It may be unfinished, and perhaps imperfect. Do not let that stop you – share your "dabbling" with someone close to you who'll support you. Tell them what you've done – something like "Ta-da! Look what I've done!" – and see how that feels. Remember that their reaction doesn't matter (although they'll probably be amazed at your progress). Instead, you're proudly embracing your "dabbling".

Above all, even on those long days, remember that you haven't lost yourself in parenthood. You've just been last on your own list for a while. Dabbling is how you find your way back.

*Laura Best is a keynote speaker, coach and bestselling author of Born to Buzz: How to Spark Your Passions (Without Quitting It All). She founded Passion Collective in 2014 to help people rediscover what it means to truly love their lives again. She's also both a mum and stepmum, and can be found at www.passioncollective.co*

PUT DOWN THE APP YOUR BABY NEEDS YOU

On why no algorithm can replace the one thing your baby actually needs most by Norland Nanny and sleep consultant Melanie

Picture this. It's the middle of the night. Your baby has woken up, again, and you're sitting in the dark, scrolling through your sleep tracking app, desperately looking for a reason. A pattern. An answer.

I see this all the time. And I understand it completely. When you're running on empty, data feels like control. But here's what I want every tired parent reading this to hear: the app is not your friend at 3am. It's a spreadsheet. And a spreadsheet cannot love your baby.

I'm Melanie, a Norland Nanny and sleep consultant. I've supported hundreds of families through sleep challenges, and I can tell you with certainty: every single thing I do is for your child and your family. Not for a metric. Not to keep you tapping on a screen.

AI sleep apps can be useful for logging patterns and lightening your mental load, and I'd never dismiss that when you're exhausted. But they cannot tell you that your baby's wake-ups are linked to a developmental leap she's going through. They can't hear the wobble in your voice when you say "I think I'm doing this wrong." And they absolutely cannot look you in the eye and say: you're not doing anything wrong. You're doing brilliantly.

That's what I'm here for.

When I work with a family, I start by asking what you actually want. Not what the guidelines say. Not what worked for someone else's baby. What works for your life, your baby, your household. And then we build something around that together.

Your instincts as a parent are good. Sleep deprivation just makes them very hard to hear. My job is to help you trust them again.

No app can do that. But a real human, who is completely in your corner? Absolutely.

Melanie is a Norland Nanny and sleep consultant. Scan the QR code to access the dedicated sleep library, packed with expert advice, videos, and practical tips.

Visit www.melaniehastings.sleepnanny.co.uk to find out more and to get in touch.

★★★★★ Written by Caroline O'Gorman, Toddle About Subscriber

This adorable memory bunny is handmade from your preloved baby clothes, transforming precious fabrics into a keepsake, with embroidered features and optional personalisation including name and date of birth. £45 from www.edieandjoe.com.

I hadn't appreciated how wonderful owning this Memory Bunny would be for our child, not just for us as parents. Our son loves hearing the stories about the clothes it wears, why they are important to us and where they came from.

Our son used to wear a shirt his dad wore when he was little, and now the Memory Bunny wears it too! He is not a five-and-a-half-year-old who usually cuddles teddies, but this one has come everywhere; he has a name and even a mini bed! I think it's the memories and stories associated with a time he can't remember which mean so much to him and evoke special memories for all of us.

At first, it was hard to think about meaningful clothes being turned into something else, but it is so much better they are made into a tactile Memory Bunny than left in a drawer. It has been beautifully sewn, with the best parts thoughtfully showcased.

Our only dilemma now is whether to let it become well-cuddled and well-worn, or leave it on a top shelf as a keepsake. I think it will have to be the former!

The Reality of WORK-LIFE BALANCE

by Tessa Day

Lessons from founder and new mummy Tessa Day, who runs not one, but two businesses

Running a business is often described as a balancing act. Add motherhood into the mix and suddenly that balancing act can feel more like spinning lots of plates at once, hoping none of them fall. As the founder of two businesses and a first-time mum, I've learned that the idea of "work-life balance" is often far from reality - and that's okay.

Becoming a mum was something I had always dreamed about. Working within the children's activities industry meant I spent years supporting families and children's classes across the UK. Through Club Hub UK, I help families discover children's activities, classes and events, while also helping activity providers grow and gain visibility. I loved helping parents discover opportunities for their children, but I also longed to experience that world myself one day - taking my own child along to the very classes I spent so much time promoting and supporting. At times it felt emotional personally too, especially as I struggled with PCOS and our journey to parenthood took longer than we had hoped.

When I finally became a mum, I realised I still deeply loved my work and wanted to continue growing my businesses too. That brought a whole new wave of guilt I wasn't expecting.

I remember going back to work when my baby was just six weeks old to run my long-standing musical theatre kids club, Tessa's Jazz Hands. It wasn't a full-time return to work - it was two hours on a Thursday! - and when I resumed my Club Hub work, most of it happened during nap times, in the evenings, or in small pockets of time throughout the day.

I quickly realised that working didn't make me any less grateful to be a mum. Continuing to build something I was passionate about helped me still feel like myself during a period where so much of my identity was changing.

One of the biggest lessons I've learned is that balance constantly changes. Some weeks work takes priority, especially in the run up to the Club Hub event. Other weeks family comes first because sleep deprivation or teething have taken over the house. Instead of striving for perfection, I've learned to focus on flexibility.

What keeps me grounded is remembering why I started my businesses in the first place: to create freedom, flexibility, and a better future for my family. Becoming a mum hasn't taken away my ambition - if anything, it's given me even more motivation. I want to create memories, go on more holidays together, build financial security and, hopefully one day, be mortgage free.

I've realised it's okay to love being a mum while still wanting to grow, achieve, and build a successful business alongside it. If you have the passion and motivation for something, becoming a mum doesn't mean your ambitions have to stop - it can simply give them even more purpose.

Tessa Day is the founder of Club Hub UK, helping families discover children's activities, classes, and events across the UK while supporting activity providers and small businesses to grow.

A GROWTH MINDSET IN ACTION

10 Ways To Help Your Young Child Foster & Apply a Growth Mindset

by Louise Treherne

You might have heard many times of the term 'Growth Mindset', coined by the psychologist Dr. Carol Dweck. We know it can have a huge impact on how we see ourselves, the world around us and our capability to be successful. But how on earth do we instil this mindset in our toddlers? And what does a growth mindset in action actually look like?

Let's start by looking at the opposite. A child with a fixed mindset, is a child who believes that their capability is fixed; either they can or can't and they will often shy away from taking risks where the outcome might prove the point that they can't. Tasks are approached with the goal of looking smart, mistakes and hard work simply pull their abilities into question.

WHAT'S THE LONG-TERM IMPACT OF ADOPTING A GROWTH MINDSET?

Fostering a growth mindset in your child takes work but the gains are endless. You're literally setting your child up for success by helping them understand their potential to grow and develop. Our view of ourselves determines everything; how we think, feel and behave. If your child sees themselves as someone capable of growth, they are much more likely to try new things, take risks, accept mistakes and learn from setbacks rather than take them personally.

So how do we do it?

Follow us for daily updates!

10 SIMPLE WAYS TO FOSTER A GROWTH MINDSET...

1 Praise the process not the outcome: If your child only ever hears you praise the success of the outcome, they learn that is the only thing that matters. Instead, look to praise the specific skills they showed or mindset they applied. It might sound like: "Wow, you completed the puzzle! What really made me smile was how you kept trying different pieces when they didn't work! It was frustrating, but you kept trying!"

2 Build the narrative that 'challenge' is good: Very early on, children often learn that being challenged and doing something 'hard' is a negative thing. We can easily change this narrative. Think about how they hear you talk about challenge and find opportunities to say, "This is tricky - this is exciting!" or "I haven't tried this before, learning new things is fun!". We know young children watch and learn from how we respond, so let them see you relish the opportunity to stretch yourself rather than be fearful.

3 Remind them of their progress: Children quickly forget the progress they've made and how far they've come. By reminding them that when they started, they couldn't yet do the activity but now they have mastered it, it helps them to understand that 'can't' doesn't mean forever. This might sound like: "Remember when you first tried putting your coat on yourself? It was tricky and you couldn't do it... now look. You've been practising and now you can!"

4 Model your own growth mindset in action: The easiest way to show your child a growth mindset in action is to narrate your own inner thoughts. This is beneficial not just for them but also makes us more mindful of the way we speak to ourselves! Let them hear self-compassion and reflection rather than negative self talk. This might sound like:

"I'm getting this wrong, that's ok it's something new to me". Or "I need to give myself a chance to learn how to do this".

5 Learn to laugh at yourself: Learning to laugh at yourself and not taking things too seriously can have a positive impact on your mindset and is a very underrated skill. Teaching our children to put things into perspective and modelling how we can laugh at ourselves when we mess up or make mistakes, means they are much more likely to have a grounded sense of self. This might seem a small thing now, but if they've developed this skill early on, they may be more ready to shrug off a setback or laugh off a misdemeanour as they grow up.

6 Explore the unfamiliar & uncomfortable: Young children love familiarity and predictability. It brings them comfort and confidence. It's also important to find opportunities to try new things and a great way to do this is as a family. Pick an activity that might be new for you all and let your little one see you struggle. It could be climbing, tennis, trampolining... anything goes, but the important thing is they see you getting comfortable with being outside of your comfort zone and being challenged.

7 Model making mistakes: Being accepting of making mistakes rather than crumbling at them is another mark of a growth mindset. You can help your child become more accepting of their own mistakes by modelling this to them. Find opportunities such as when you're cooking and the recipe goes wrong, or while you're drawing or making a birthday card you could misspell a word and show them your reaction. Rather than throw the cake away or scrunch up the card, say out loud "Oops I got that bit wrong, that's ok I'm learning as I go!". If we want young children to have a positive response to making mistakes, we have to let them see those around them make them and react positively too.

8 Look for the back story: Children are often in awe of those around them who appear to be able to do things they can't. Whether it's their peers or famous people, they often focus on the success and fail to see the back story. What an opportunity while they're young, to help them get curious about what's behind the success! This could be simply saying out loud, "I wonder how they got so good at that?" or "I bet that took lots of hard work".

9 Show me the hard part: Ever heard your little one say, "It's too tricky! I can't do it!"? A simple way of helping a young child develop resilience and a growth mindset is helping them get really specific about which part of a task is challenging. When your little one says they want to give up, try saying "Show me the hard part". This encourages them to identify the particular part they're struggling with and helps them see often, it's just one small part of a task rather than the entire thing. Whether it's a Lego brick that won't attach or a sleeve that's inside out, 'show me the hard part' helps them see that the problem is often surmountable.

10 I can't YET: You've probably heard of the power of the word YET. I can't tie my shoe laces... yet. I can't ride my bike without stabilisers... YET. Why not make a 'YET' wall in your kitchen and get the whole family to write on a post-it note something they can't do YET. I'll never forget the impact it had on my boys when I learnt to drive in my late 30s. If you can choose an activity to write on your post-it note that other people your age typically might be able to do (but you can't yet), it's a really powerful thing to model. And of course as you practise and learn, you might all be able to move your post-it notes to the 'CAN' wall and then choose a new 'YET' activity!
