HILTON HOTEL

specialised project

Magic Glass had the privilege of tending to a glass replacement job at Sydney's Hilton Hotel in the CBD. The job involved the removal, manufacture and installation of a bespoke, mirror-finished glass panel for a second-floor bathroom.

From start-to-finish, our team completed this job with great results and rapid turn-around time. We oversaw the initial assessment of the job, manufactured a custom glass panel, and safely installed the glass with lasting finishes

the challenge

Situated in the centre of Sydney, the Hilton is one of the city's most popular hotels. Luxurious in nature, the interior of the hotel is fitted with bespoke designs and decor, featuring impressive glass installations throughout the building.

Late in 2020, a mirror in one of the hotel's common bathrooms was badly damaged and needed to be replaced. The Hilton contacted Magic Glass to address the issues, and we proudly stepped up to the job.

the solution

The replacement job required us to remove the shattered glass, custom-make an identical panel, and install it safely.

Magic Glass commenced the job by conducting an initial assessment with our professional Assessors and Glaziers. Upon this assessment, our team recorded specifications regarding the dimensions, finish, colour, and type of glass of the damaged panel.

This information was then communicated to our Fabricators who then produced an identical panel in our specialised furnace facility. This glass panel had to be cut to exact specifications and finished with a mirror on one side, and a glossy paint on the other.

Our Glaziers safely removed the damaged panel and installed the new one on-site. They sealed it in place and completed the job with lasting finishes.

Italian cuisine is noted for its regional diversity, abundance of difference in taste, and is one of the most popular in the world, with influences abroad. Italian cuisine is characterized by its simplicity, with many dishes having only four to eight ingredients. Italian cooks rely chiefly on the quality of the ingredients rather than on elaborate preparation. Ingredients and dishes vary by region and by country as well.

Many dishes that were once regional, however, have proliferated with variations throughout the country. Cheese and wine are a major part of the cuisine, with many variations and Denominazione di origine controllata (DOC) (regulated appellation) laws. Coffee, specifically espresso, has become important in Italian cuisine.

THE TAJ MAHAL IS AN IVORY-WHITE MARBLE MAUSOLEUM ON THE SOUTH BANK OF THE YAMUNA RIVER IN THE INDIAN CITY OF AGRA.

A magazine is a publication, usually a periodical publication, which is printed or electronically published (sometimes referred to as an online magazine). Magazines are generally published on a regular schedule and contain a variety of content. They are generally financed by advertising, by a purchase price, by prepaid subscriptions, or a combination of the three. At its root, the word "magazine" refers to a collection or storage location. In the case of written publication, it is a collection of written articles. This explains why magazine publications share the word root with gunpowder magazines, artillery magazines, firearms magazines, and, in French, retail stores such as department stores.

By definition, a magazine paginates with each issue starting at page three, with the standard sizing being $8 \frac{3}{8} \times 10 \frac{7}{8}$ inches. However, in the technical sense a journal has continuous pagination throughout a volume.

Thus Business Week, which starts each issue anew with page one, is a magazine, but the Journal of Business Communication, which starts each volume with the winter issue and continues the same sequence of pagination throughout the coterminous year, is a journal.

Some professional or trade publications are also peer-reviewed, an example being the Journal of Accountancy.

According to Wikipedia, a news article discusses current or recent news of either general interest (i.e. daily newspapers) or of a specific topic (i.e. political or trade news magazines, club newsletters, or technology news websites).

A news article can include accounts of eyewitnesses to the happening event. It can contain photographs, accounts, statistics, graphs, recollections, interviews, polls, debates on the topic, etc. Headlines can be used to focus the reader's attention on a particular (or main) part of the article. The writer can also give facts and detailed information following answers to general questions like who, what, when, where, why and how.

Quoted references can also be helpful. References to people can also be made through the written accounts of interviews and debates confirming the factuality of the writer's information and the reliability of his source. The writer can use redirection to ensure that the reader keeps reading the article and to draw her attention to other articles. For example, phrases like "Continued on page 3" redirect the reader to a page where the article is continued.

While a good conclusion is an important ingredient for newspaper articles, the immediacy of a deadline environment means that copy editing often takes the form of deleting everything past an
