help to manage your stress

4090000

The Stress Management Kit has been specially designed to help you discover how to reduce and better manage your stress. You now have the appropriate tools to promote self-regulation and allow you to control stress or replenish your energy thanks to a sensory break adapted to the situation and the environment (alone, at home, at school, at the office ...).

NOTE: Picture for reference only. Items, models and colors may vary from the picture (depends on availability).
