Kaleidoscopic Views of 1966

The Highlander Staff has chosen for our yearbook the theme of Kaleidoscopic Views of 1966. A Kaleidoscope is a toy that is familiar to all of us. It is filled with bits of colored glass which create unusual and interesting designs and patterns when it is turned. In our selecting of this theme, we are of the opinion that while the student is at McLain High School he too undergoes many interesting changes in his patterns of thinking which will effect the designing of his future. The theme is carried out by the use of photography arranged in Kaleidoscopic patterns of art work.

After the photo had been selected for a specific division page it was then taken to the dark room where it was reproduced four times in regular position and then four times in reverse position. These were then brought to the art room where they were cut in wedge-shaped designs and glued to a mat board in alternating arrangements. These were perfectly registered in order to achieve the Kaleidoscopic Design. Over this piece an overlay of art work was placed to finish the design.

As we look through our Kaleidoscope, we see the changes that

ABOVE CENTER: Pam Mathews headed the cheerleaders who kept the school spirit at an all time high during athletic events.

ABOVE AND LEFT: The real adventure in our lives at McLain came through the exploration of the world of knowledge to be found in books and by doing research. Carolyn Kearney used our newly expanded library while Jay Tiner ventured a look into the microscopic existence of the ameba, hydra, paramecium, Euglena, and the planaria.

FAR LEFT: The designs and patterns of the Kaleidoscope radiate from its central axis. At McLain High School Mr. Kenneth Bays was the central axis which helped to direct the designs and patterns of our life at McLain that shape our future as active, colorful citizens of tomorrow.

LEFT CENTER: The Christmas tree in the cafeteria, added a Kaleidoscopic touch of holiday color to our lunch. Stacy Bollwine kept her eyes on the job while Deniece Moore kept one eye on the camera as they assisted the decorating committee.

have become memories with each turn of another year. We have passed countless hours walking the halls searching to quench the thirst of knowledge. We have studied in classrooms; we have worked long after the last bell . . . in athletics, club meetings, facing publication deadlines, or polishing rehearsals. Memories of our school days are cherished by classes who have gone before us; more will be treasured by classes who will follow. But in our present time our memories, our thoughts, our laughter, our heartaches are different.

One view that never changes is devotion. True devotion is a part of each McLain student. One symbol, "Honor, Loyalty, and Determination," has instilled in us the willingness to give of ourselves wholeheartedly for the betterment of our school. As long as youth shall devote themselves to serious endeavors in the classrooms and fill the corridors with laughter, McLain will stand as a living symbol for all who seek a better life through education.

Wisdom is our objective. Through academic excellence we hope to become citizens who will be better prepared and eager to serve our world.

For this year the 1966 Highlander is keeping up with the heartbeat of McLain High School and its dynamic views.

Proper guidance is the pattern to success. Success comes before work only in the dictionary.

A pep assembly was held in our new stadium.

General Raymond McLain

As we look through our kaleidoscope we see the unchanging and undying loyalty of the McLain Scots to the ideals personified by General Raymond Stallings McLain.

As we view his life we see that in 1912 he enlisted in the Oklahoma National Guard, nominated by the President of the United States for the permanent rank of Brigadier General.

In 1945 he was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant General and was presented the third star by General Dwight D. Eisenhower. Among the many awards given to General McLain were two French medals, two Bronze stars for World War I, and seven Bronze stars for his participation in World War II.

After his retirement in 1952, General McLain was selected to serve a five-year term on the National Security Commission. At a Commission Conference he was stricken with a fatal illness which led to his death on December 4, 1954. He was truly a great man.

The Tulsa Public Schools has set an example for the other schools in Oklahoma. The Tulsa schools are looked upon by other schools in Oklahoma with great respect. We have a good school system because of the Tulsa School Board, to which the students of Tulsa owe a debt of thanks.

The value of a solid background in education is a vital part of our lives. By supplying the schools with good buildings, good teachers, and providing their various activities, the Board has given students a once-in-a-lifetime chance for a sound education.

The theme of this yearbook is in many ways attuned to the world of today. The changing design of the moving kaleidoscope reminds us of the changing patterns of our society. As the beauty of the kaleidoscope depends on its ability to change, the effectiveness of our society must be judged on our willingness to meet the same challenge for progress.

While the sociological advances we have known with the changes seem to serve worthwhile goals, we must protect our American Heritage as the basis for fundamental freedoms. Often we become too concerned with our "rights" and too forgetful of our responsibilities.

A primary goal of the staff at McLain High School is to help students acquire the traits necessary to properly recognize the limits of their rights and responsibilities as young adults. The staff desperately want our efforts to help prepare students for a loyal and productive citizenship.

This yearbook publication is a carefully planned activity designed to help McLain students more fully appreciate the opportunities that have been theirs. The Highlander not only will preserve precious memories but should serve as a symbol of our educational heritage. As the years pass, this book will be a documentary to the efforts of students and teachers in 1965-66 to exercise our most treasured tradition, the right to an education.

Symbolic of the change which takes place within the students is the building of McLain itself. Evidence of this can be seen in the addition of new equipment and facilities for our advanced living in an ever-changing and advanced society. The structure of this two and one half million dollar marble, steel, and brick building represents the opportunities for a firm educational foundation.

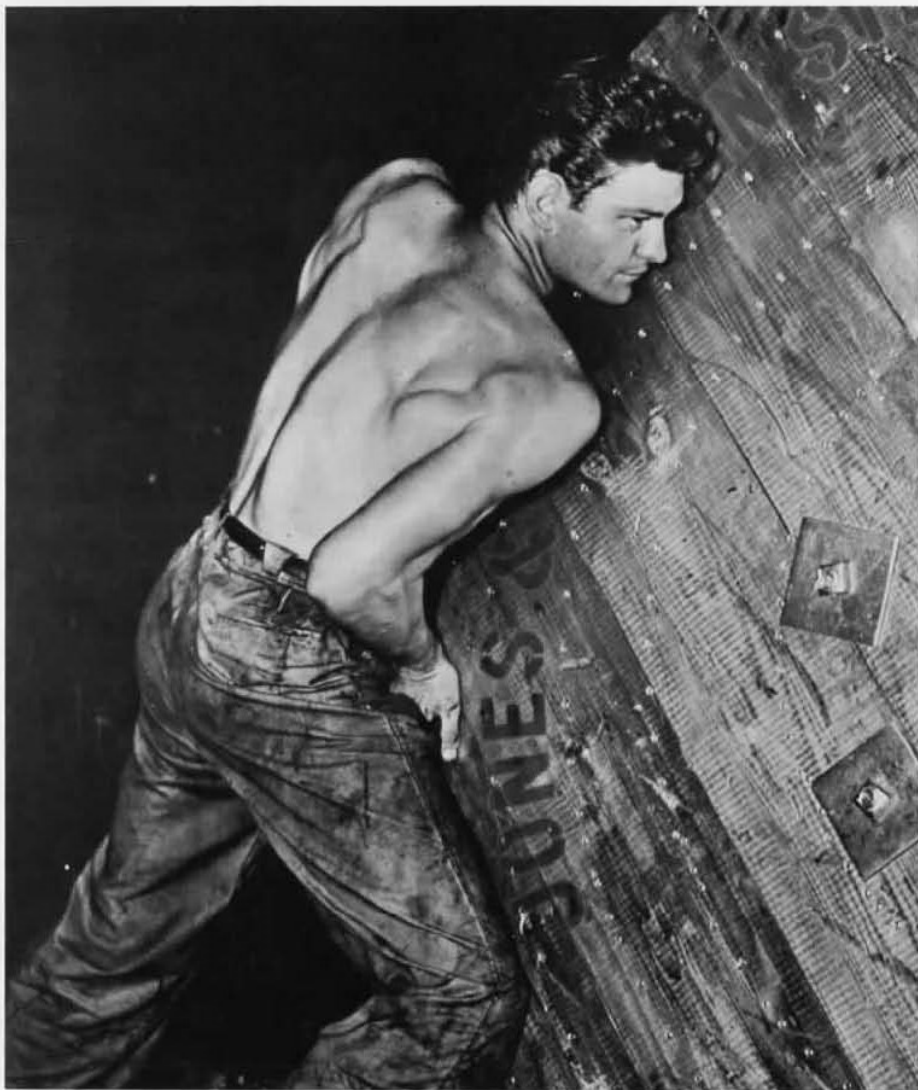

Keeping pace with the demanding future, McLain has added a stadium to meet the needs of North Tulsa. The familiar sound of "S-C-O-T-S" rang loudly as student fans rushed toward the stadium for pep rallies and football games to boost the Scots to victory. The addition of the football stadium has already proved a valuable asset to the community.

The solidness of McLain's structure, added to the acquisition of knowledge there has built us for a strengthened future; a future filled with conquest in space, exploration at the bottom of the sea and a search within ourselves. A search which will lead to a better understanding of our world.

Raymond S. McLain High School

A Dedication

The Highlander Staff of 1966 has selected a person who is most worthy of this year's annual dedication. Our choice is Mr. Joe Gibson, our Assistant Principal.

As a graduate of Electra High School in Texas, he continued his education at Tulsa University, where he received his Bachelors Degree. Then from Phillips University in Enid he received his Masters Degree.

Even though this is Mr. Gibson's second year as Assistant Principal at McLain High School, it doesn't mean that he's new to the students, for in 1960 he taught United States History. He was counselor of the sophomore class, manager of the Book Store, and building delegate to the Tulsa Classroom Teachers Association. In 1961 he was the sophomore and junior counselor, then in 1962 and 1963 he was Dean of Boys.

Because of his qualities, contributions, and interest toward the student body, we the staff of the McLain Highlander, make this dedication to Mr. Joe Gibson.

In his senior year at Tulsa University, he worked at Frick-Reid Supply Company to stay in shape.

Joe played pro-football for Washington Redskins, 1943; Cleveland Rams, 1944 and Brooklyn Dodgers, 1946

The administration of McLain High School has always been an everchanging one. They continually strive throughout the year to further the traditions which past and present Scots have set. The Scots, under the leadership of our number one Scots Kenneth J. Bays and Joe Gibson, will climb the ladder of success until the top is reached.

Advising the students about the courses needed for graduation, determining scholastic averages and handling transcripts of graduating seniors was only a few of the many responsibilities facing the counselors. Keeping school and financial records, mimeographing tests and tabulating the absentees are the tasks confronting the office personnel. Another vital job handled by our school nurse is keeping the student body physically fit and in sound health.

Mr. Thompson checked records to be sure seniors were credited.

"Well, Mrs. McClure, it couldn't have been all that funny!"

Demonstrations were a daily part of Mrs. Lamberts' work.

Homemaking and Business Education offer challenges for the future.

Clicking of typewriters are heard in the hall as each new class of typists tried frantically to remember where the keys are. The teacher, stop watch in hand, shouts to the accompaniment of the staccato hum of the keys, "Go! Stop!" Other business courses are about the same. Shorthand students puzzled by the unfamiliar jot they made in dictation, ask each other, "Now which one has the curly-cue on the end?" At the end of the semester, practice sets vie with the themes, and research papers in other classes.

Burned food, dirty dishes and home nursing tips are only a few of the many factors taught in home economics class. McLain offers an outstanding home economics course. To display efforts and experience gained throughout the year, students gave style shows, prepared entire meals, and simple teas.

History and Foreign Language were studied.

In world history, students traveled through Colonial America, the Revolutionary and Civil wars, the Industrial Revolution, and the two World Wars.

While the kaleidoscope of time keeps turning, history is being changed and made in this ever-changing, and ever-progressing America of today.

In the changing age of world travel and constant communication, the demand for bi-lingual correspondents and diplomats grows every day. Students and teachers are striving to fulfill this need through instruction in courses of French, Latin, and Spanish.

Math and Science are vital in a changing world.

Mathematics is designed to encourage the student to use his logic and ingenuity. He has a chance to demonstrate his ability to think by taking advanced courses including trigonometry, algebra, and solid geometry. The midnight oil was burned by all students enrolled in math classes who worked to complete their homework assignments.

Armed with microscopes, scalpels, test tubes, and slide rules, science students marched into their laboratory battlefields each day to face their private wars with frogs and paramecia. This is the scientific age. Each year there becomes more of a demand for young problem-solving scientists.

The main objective of the English Department was to improve the techniques of speaking, reading, writing, and listening.

The Sophomores studied orientation of verbs, nouns, adjectives, and adverbs plus a study of American Literature. Juniors start their first adventure of Shakespeare by reading Macbeth. The Seniors venture into Hamlet, Cyrano, and Oedipus.

The McLain High School English department accents skill in grammar, composition, and Literature. It offers specialized courses in speech, creative writing, reading techniques, and Journalism. These courses offer the student wider knowledge of good books, on-the-job training in publications and newspaper work as well as public speaking.

English leads into a fascinating and an imaginative world of adventure, escape, and entertainment.

As the Kaleidoscope turns, we see the development of manual skills through McLain's industrial arts department, which begins with basic skills and ranges through the more advanced areas such as electronics. These skills, requiring dexterity and mechanical inclination, provide excellent vocational preparations, as well as further practice for hobbies begun outside of the classroom. The milling machine, the surface grinder and the turret lathe are only a few of the machines that the boys learn to manipulate in the course of industrial arts. Participation in these courses prepares students to do the basic repairs in most households and provide incentive to further investigate vocational fields which interest them.

Boys which are enrolled in auto mechanics, woodwork and drafting are preparing themselves in the skills that these classes offer for later vocations. It's training such as this that helps to make McLain students ready for a profitable future.

The Arts and Phys-ed. build physical and mental talents.

Harmony, tone pattern, personal communication, and muscle coordination, are only a few of skills taught in the arts. "Gads what's that?" was the daily question asked by the non artist upon entering the art room and seeing the multi-colored mobile hanging from the ceiling. The art department covers all phase of art from basic to advanced. Group discussions debates and extemporaneous speeches were the main topics of speech students. If entertainment is desired the band and orchestra o McLain provides the very best. The students enrolled in stage craft learn the knowledge of lighting and staging.

McLain deals not only in developing the mind but also th body. In answer to the need for physically fit adults, McLain' physical education class is on the "move".

Senior Board

As the kaleidoscope makes its final turn, we view the graduating class of 1966 proudly receiving their diplomas in the McLain Stadium.

During the seniors' three years at McLain, they kept as their only objective the motto, "One step at a time and always forward."

The kaleidoscopic class colors were powder blue and beige. The class flower was the white carnation.

With the busy year lying ahead of them, the seniors plunged head forward into their various activities. 1966 was truly a wonderful year for those who left McLain's doors to face the future unafraid.

Junior Board

The members of the class of '67 strove to make themselves ready to become the top class at McLain High. They experienced one of the most rewarding years of their high school career. The Kaleidoscopic colors of the class of '67 are pale blue and silver touched off with a white carnation. As the Juniors finally succeed the Seniors, class of '66, and become Seniors themselves they will uphold their motto, "Liberty without learning is peril—and learning without liberty is in vain." The Junior class sponsored a Junior fun night on March 26. They also produced a melodrama "Night Must Fall."

Sophomore Board

McLain opened its doors to the class of '68 for the first time last September. This class, as sophomores, shared emotions of terror and enthusiasm as they struggled through their first few weeks of school. After they got to know each other, they selected their class officers and class motto which is "Look at today and never at tomorrow for tomorrow may never come."

As the kaleidoscope turned we saw that the sophomores chose blue and silver for their class colors, and a white carnation as their flower.

In contrast to the gaiety of the class colors was the delightful play "Boys and Ghouls together."

McLain High School Red Cross

McLain students through their Red Cross Representatives participated in a number of activities. Some of these included a girls' Powder Puff Derby to raise money for the annual enrollment drive, and a car-window washing project to encourage donations to the Blood Bank. Throughout the year, they entertained the elderly at the County Fair and children at the Children's Medical Center. Some representatives also did volunteer work at the downtown Red Cross Headquarters. Probably the largest project was the collection of personal items for Friendship Boxes to be sent to children overseas. Late that year, four delegates, Juanita Hollingsworth, Kay Nicholson, Connie Sharp, and Bill Tuggle attended the Webster Leadership Conference where Janet Yoho was elected as County Historian for next year.

Civitan

Named the outstanding Junior Civitan Club in the Oklahoma-Kansas district, the Scot organization, directed by Mr. Don Barnum, had an active year. Besides other projects the members participated in the "Goodwill Good Turn Day" and sponsored the Freedoms Fair. At the senior banquet various awards were given.

Under the direction of Mr. Wayne Brooks, the Key Club boys served as ushers at school events and worked with the Civitans to alleviate the parking problem at home athletic events. The members also held a candy sale for the National Diabetic Foundation, and helped the Junior Chamber of Commerce with the Christmas Shopping tour.

The Scots Pep Club had a busy and successful year.

Sporting new uniforms of white v-neck sweaters, maroon pleated skirts, and knee socks with cherry-cordovan oxfords, their true spirit was shown by their attendance at all sporting events.

Sponsored by Mrs. Marsha Patterson and Mrs. Barbara Brown the pep club sold fight ribbons, pompons, and McLain pennants as well as sponsoring a trip to the Miami Tournament and a coke party.

Squad leaders for this year were Nancy Villines, Cecelia Hilton, Janet L'Roy, Linda Rippetoe, Donna Reel, Denice Moore, Brenda Piquet, Linda Sitzman, Nanci Tatom, and Karen Bitto.

FIRST: Paula Bronaugh, Secretary; Jeanine Bruce, Parliamentarian; Lorraine Dale, Vice-President; Vicki Owens, Treasurer; Mrs. Brown, Sponsor; Mrs. Patterson, Sponsor; Stephanie Bitto, President.

McLain High

The 74 members of the band have been under the direction of Mr. David Edris. Officers were elected at the first of the year.

All in the advanced band have participated in many activities. Football games, pep assemblies, and parades were the activities during the fall and early winter. An assembly was held during the early spring presenting the symphonic band sound, and later in the spring they had their annual concert. The final activity was the playing by the band at commencement exercises.

McLain Orchestra

This year McLain's orchestra was featured in many phases of Scot activities. Under the direction of Mr. David Edris and student director Glen Williamson, the group performed at class plays and assemblies. They practiced long hours to make the Miss McLain Coronation a memorable one. Weeks of rehearsals made the school musical, Li'l Abner, one of the biggest events of the year.

Mr. Edris, who participated in the Tulsa Philharmonic Orchestra, was very successful as music director this year. We were sorry to see his mustache have to go.

Mixed Chorus

The Mixed and Girls choruses were under the direction of Mr. Shirl White. These choruses performed for various assemblies and joined in with the other choruses for the Christmas Cantata and the Easter Cantata by Peterson. These groups were made up of singers who wished to continue their work in singing by performing for many people on different occasions. With each changing year new faces were added, new voices resounded with song—each adding his own talent to the over-all effect.

Girls Chorus

Journalism

McLain's Journalism staff has had a busy year. Besides turning in copy for School Life every week they compiled and sold football programs for the Regional Playoffs at La Fortune Stadium, made a field trip with Mr. Bays to see the airplane he flew to Viet Nam, and wrote and edited the senior paper, Scots' Spirit of '66.

In April the staff made the annual trip to TU's Press Day. At Press Day McLain's staff members walked away with fifteen awards for writing, including a superior rating given to Jim Wood for Sports writing. Panel discussions at Press Day helped the staff to realize the many careers that can be pursued in journalism. After the panel discussions tours of KOTV and the Tulsa World and the Tulsa Tribune were made.

Judie Coursey, Sherry Quick and Dorothy Bundrant are working hard trying to meet the deadline for the School Life.

SEATED: Vicki Davis, Judy Palmer, Betty McFadden, Debbie Mullings, Denience Moore, Janet L'Roy, Marylin Love, Janella Caughey. Office Assistants help school run smoothly

Answering the telephone, running errands, and easing pain were only a few of the many tasks confronting the office assistants and nurses aids. The students participating in this organization had great responsibility placed upon them. The office assistants keep an accurate count of the absentees while the nurses aids apply splints on broken fingers and file health cards. Throughout the changing views at McLain the responsibilities revolve around the qualities that these students must have in order to carry out their jobs to the fullest. With the help of these students the office of McLain High School is kept running smoothly and efficiently.

Paula Bronaugh, one of the many office assistants, worked hard at delivering the daily bulletins and running the errands for the administrative staff.

McTala

McTala, which stands for McLain Teen-Age Library Association was kept busy this year cataloguing new books under the direction of Miss Yvette Robinson.

The room for these books was enlarged. This was done by knocking out the formal back wall and adding the classroom behind it to the area of the library. This enlargement also will meet the demands of a larger student body not only this year but in years to come.

Some new features in McLain's Library are a more efficient reference department, remodeled group study and conference room, a new section containing information on any career imaginable, and a wider selection of books.

Dolphins

The Dolphins is an organization of synchronized swimming. Each year the girls strive to produce an annual water show. These girls practice long hours to perfect the ballet movements they use in the water show. Tryouts for new and old members were held two weeks after the beginning of clinic.

Their annual water show this year was "Lullaby of Broadway". Each act was written directed, and swum by the girls themselves. The costumes were made by the girls, the show was financed from the organization treasury.

Dolphins is an organization which requires all-out efforts to excel. Those who have made it can testify that Dolphins is hard work, but well forth the effort.

The girls were good this year, but from the results of spring tryouts they will be even better next year.

Tartanettes

"Spindle, spindle to the rear march!" These were familiar directions shouted by Linda Carpenter, senior drill sergeant. The high-steppers found indeed that practice made the Tartanettes perfect. Each and every morning at seven-thirty the girls practiced their precision drills. The Tartanettes performed their drills at half-time during football and basketball games.

A major part of the Tartanettes work was to add their support to the Cheerleaders and Pep Club.

Dolphins

The Dolphins is an organization of synchronized swimming. Each year the girls strive to produce an annual water show. These girls practice long hours to perfect the ballet movements they use in the water show. Tryouts for new and old members were held two weeks after the beginning of clinic.

Their annual water show this year was "Lullaby of Broadway". Each act was written directed, and swum by the girls themselves. The costumes were made by the girls, the show was financed from the organization treasury.

Dolphins is an organization which requires all-out efforts to excel. Those who have made it can testify that Dolphins is hard work, but well forth the effort.

The girls were good this year, but from the results of spring tryouts they will be even better next year.

Thespians produce another successful play.

Thespians is a group of dramatically inclined students. After being accepted in the National Thespian Society, the members continue their talents by helping with all assemblies, class plays, and the musical.

This year in a special assembly the Thespians produced their annual one-act play; this year's being, "The Wall."

As a group the Thespians attended several of Tulsa University's plays. Among them were the musical "That Fair Affair" and the Edison High School Shakespearean Festival.

Foreign Language Clubs promote world understanding

The three foreign languages here at McLain were represented by three clubs, the Spanish Club, Latin Club and French Club. The Latin Club's purpose was to instill a better understanding and interest in the Roman people and their language. They had a Roman Banquet this year, which stressed the customs and food of the Roman people.

The Spanish Club's purpose was to promote interest in the Spanish Language, to provide practice of Spanish and to learn about the cultures and customs of Spanish-speaking peoples. They were given a demonstration of native dances by Carmen Reyes Phillips of Honduras.

The French Club promoted among the students an understanding of the French Language and way of life. The big event for the French Club was a French Mardegra.

Deadlines met by Highlander Staff in spite of problems.

Three delegates attend ISPA Conference in the windy city of Chicago

In spite of the many problems that faced the staff of the 1966 Highlander, the final deadline was met June 8. Many afternoons were spent in Mr. Graham's room writing copy, proofreading pages, and drawing various lay-outs. Not all of the time spent on the Highlander was hard work. Three of the staff attended the International Scholastic Association Conference in Chicago. They were Sharon Simmons, Charlie Grof, and Bobby Ball. While in Chicago they took in several places of interest including the Museum of Natural History, and the Chicago Art Institute.

Stage Craft and Audio-Visual

The changing views at McLain High School can be seen in the organization's stagecraft and audio-visual. The jobs performed by the stagecraft members made it possible for the stage to come alive and change with each new setting. The stagecraft members worked hard in making the settings for plays, musicals, and various assembly programs. The students in audio-visual brought usually dull subjects to life as they showed films for learning.

Excitement runs high at Coronation

Excitement hardly describes the anxiety and tension preceding the Coronation. Peeking through the partially closed auditorium doors, we nervously watched the presentation of the royal court awaiting the time of our entrance. "Lady Iris of the House of Jones" rang through the auditorium, and Iris calmly and gracefully proceeded toward the stage. Next Lady Debbie, with her hair up in beautiful curls, exhibited her pretty smile as she walked.

With my heart thumping in my throat, I realized it was my turn to walk down the aisle. As I felt the warmth of the spotlight hit my back, it revealed the smiles of the anxious members of the audience. Their faces gave me comfort and confidence. Reaching the stage, I watched Princess Pam and Princess Sharon display their true poise and grace. Finally our Lord Chancellor Curtis Fallgatter received the royal proclamation.

From the moment I heard my name, my world has never stopped spinning, and time has never flown so fast. Every moment as your queen has been wonderful and made my senior year the most treasured year of my life—one I can never forget. Sincerely hope that I have lived up to the honor and dignity of the title you have given me.

JOE WELSCH AND CATHY GIBBONS captured the Boy and Girl of the Year award. It was not surprising to most of us that these two deserving persons should capture this coveted position. In addition to being selected as Miss McLain the VII, Cathy has worked hard in the Student Council and on the Highlander Staff. Joe landed one of the leads in the musical "Lil Abner" and participated in many school assemblies. We of the McLain Highlander Staff along with the rest of the McLain Faculty and student body extend heartfelt congratulations to Cathy and Joe.

Varsity takes Magic Empire Crown.

"Scots take state!" This was the cry of McLain students that rang through the halls and into the LaFortune Stadium as the McLain Scots went into battle against Ponca City for state. It was the first year in McLain's history to be in competition for state finals. The Scots this year rolled up a 6-2-1 regular season record, won the school's first clear cut Magic Empire conference title with 6-0 and first state playoff berth.

The Scot's two losses were to Hale (12-8) and Edison (14-12) and in both games McLain had the edge in game figures. McLain defeated Webster 31-8, Memorial 15-6, Kelley 29-0, Washington 13-12, East Central 42-14, Sapulpa 27-14 and tied Broken Arrow, the Six Lakes Conference winner (AA) 6-6.

Our Scots put everything they had into winning the Magic Empire conference, but the main drive behind the boys was Coach Chuck Bowman. It takes a good coach to make a good team and that's just what we had. In addition to having a great team, he was selected coach of the year.

CENTER RIGHT: The devotion of our football players, Dave Pruitt and Les Rogers, brought success to our high spirited football team.

Tom Graddy, Larry Cooper, Bobby Taylor initiate some key blocks as Steve Furr breaks away for more yardage. It's that second effort that made our junior varsity a hard one to beat.

Jim Ramsey, Larry Cooper, and Terry Rutledge arrive too late to help the ball carrier in this play but it didn't keep the team from downing Bishop Kelley 44 to 14.

The kick-off is an exciting moment in any game.

Coaches Cox and Bloom point out a better way to run a play during a "B" game.

What is a "B" squad football team? It is a team of Sophomore and Junior boys, training to become qualified for the varsity team. These boys work hard during this training. They play other B squad teams from various schools in Tulsa and surrounding towns.

As well as great patience and skill on the part of the coaches, the task of coordinating the team into an operable machine demands long hours of practice and conditioning from the players.

This group of "B" squad players were under the guidance of Coach Marvin Cox. Even though Coach Cox is new to this school, he has brought the "B" squad boys a winning quality which they showed in their 1965-1966 football season.

We are proud of the progress which the squad has displayed in their 10-1 season.

Joe Taylor and Jack Ford mingle with the Jr. varsity players recalling their days spent training with the group.

Junior Varsity Basketball 1965-1966

This year our team completed a rebuilding year with a 10-12 record. Throughout the season the squad played with key personnel out because of injuries.

The highlight of the year came when our Scots took the McLain Tournament for the first time. Beating Kelley and Duncan by one point margins, we went on to defeat Sand Springs by seven points.

Finishing in a conference tie for fourth in the Magic Empire, our Scots went on to beat Rogers in the first round of the regionals but as always we just couldn't seem to get by Central for a berth in the state meet.

Our team lost many games by only a few points as our offensive average of 60.5 and our defensive average of 61.6 would show.

Co-captains for the year were Roger Whitaker and Gary Moutray. Senior lettermen were Larry Hobbs, Gary Moutray, Claude Gordon, Russell Grayson, Fred Watson, Roger Whitaker and Jim Wood.

Next year our Scots should be back in the thick of the M. E. race with the following junior lettermen returning: Larry Byrd, John Cavitt, Mike Fuller, Steve Linn, Les Rogers, Ronnie Russell, and Johnny Watson.

Les Rogers prepares to shoot.

Coach Allwhite tells one of his wrestlers what to do next.

Lyle Wasson controls his man.

For the first time in our school's history the wrestling team finished first in the Magic Empire Conference. Not only did they win the title, but finished with a perfect 5-0 record.

Under the guidance of first year coach Ken Allwhite, the grapplers took the Bristow Tournament for the second consecutive year and had an 8-2 year record. The only losses were to Hale 16-18 and Sand Springs 15-17, the Loyalty Night match.

When McLain met Webster, the pre-season ME favorite, one of the most exciting matches was seen. Donnie Knight defeated state champion Jim Sloan while the Scots tumbled the Warriors 21-9.

McLain vs. Memorial was the deciding match for the conference championship since both teams were undefeated. Our Scots won 22-14.

Regional finalists were Larry Moore, Jack Nelson, and Tom Pickle who all finished third in this contest.

State finalists were Larry Moore, 3rd and Jack Nelson, 4th place.

Our junior varsity seems to point out that we will have a good team for a long time. They won seven and lost only one, to Hale 3-22. The J.V.'s had a perfect 4-0 ME record and finished second in the All-City.

This was a very fine year for our wrestlers and we can only wait to see if it will continue.

ACTIVITIES

Glenda Kitchell, Bill Reedy, (Colonel Pickering), and Ronnie Beene scoff the efforts of Liza Dolittle to sell them flowers.

Liza's father, Alfred Dolittle, (Jerry Eagles), points out to Colonel Pickering the disadvantages of that bourgeois stuff called "money".

Seniors produce Shaw's "Pygmalion"

McLain's Senior play of 1966 was the production of Pygmalion by Bernard Shaw. This play was very difficult for high school students because of the English dialect.

Sherri Moan portrayed the cockney uneducated flower girl, Lisa Doolittle who became Professor Higgins' experiment in linguistics. Professor Higgins bet Colonel Pickering he could make a lady out of the next "thing" he saw. When Lisa Doolittle came into view Colonel Pickering knew Professor Higgins had his work neatly cut out.

But after many conflicts between vowels and consonates, by the end of the play, Miss Lisa Doolittle was passed off as a Hungarian Princess.

Inspector Belsize finds Danny out.

Olivia has discovered Mrs. Bramson's body and is in hysterics.

"Night Must Fall," was the play presented by the junior class. The plot of the play was centered around a psychopathic murderer named Danny who has killed a woman from the Tallboys, and has made up his mind to turn his charms upon the mistress of the house where his girlfriend works. The mistress of the house was an old lady who had turned herself from the world and become a hypochondriac. At the end of the first act his plan succeeds. During the second act the old lady's niece Olivia seems to realize he was the murderer of the lady from Tallboys. Olivia searches the luggage belonging to Danny and he catches her in the act, but does not do anything. In the third act Danny suddenly decides to kill the old lady. But justice prevailed.

Musical "Lil Abner" was smash hit!

BELOW: Citizens of Dogpatch listen to the news that their town will be bombed.

BELOW: The male citizens are getting their head start in the Sadie Hawkins Day race.

Daisy Mae, Linda Lindsey visualizes her catching Li'l Abner, Bill Reedy in the Sadie Hawkins Day race.

Pappy Tom Pickle Yokum, tells Mammy, Karen McCann off.

L'il Abner made a return visit to the McLain stage after an absence of five years, bringing again the gay, colorful town of Dogpatch U. S. A. The character portrayals were different, but the plot was still the satisfying mixture of hillbilly nonsense and sharp, critical humor. Word had been sent down from Washington that the citizens of Dogpatch must all evacuate their mountain homes. Dogpatch had been selected as the most unnecessary town in the country, and therefore the perfect site for nuclear tests. It appeared that something useful was found when Mammy Yokum produced her secret formula of Yokum-berry tonic which makes muscle men of weaklings. However, General Bullmoose, a sly and conniving politician, sets his sultry secretary and Evil Eye Fleagle with his double whammy, to work on L'il Abner hoping to wheedle Mammy's secret formula from him. The citizens of Dogpatch, after a trip to Washington, foiled Bullmoose's plans, conquering all, and settled down for a peaceful life in Dogpatch U. S. A.

With the help of Marryin Sam, and Mammy and Pappy Yokum, L'il Abner and Daisy Mae finally got together in the end.

Marryin' Sam, Joe Welsh shows great admiration for Jubilation T. Cornpone as Scarlet (Donnel Wood) listens intently.

Pappy takes a flying leap at Earthquake McGoon, only to be stopped by Abner.

The dancers helped the musical look professional.

Strong men are the products of Yokumberry tonic.

Townspeople of Dogpatch agree that their country is in the best of hands.

Introducing, "Stuperfin' Jones".

Judie "Moonbeam McSwine" Coursey

General Bullmoose and his associates.

FIRST: Karin Bitto, Sandy Street, Janice Fultz Sherry Quick, Mickie Prince. SECOND: Nancy Mosier, Audrey Young Vicki Endecott. THIRD: Stephanie Bitto, Paula Bronaugh, Mrs. Cahill, Dean Tipton, Laura Spraker, Lora Mosier, Cynthia Jones, Carole Reynolds, Kay Nicholson.

Dolphins produce "Lullaby on Broadway."

SIAMESE CHILDREN—Mary Prince, Nancy Mosier, Laura Spraker, Lora Mosier. SECOND: Dean Tipton, Carol Roberts, Sandy Street, Vicki Endecott.

Karin Bitto, Paula Bronaugh, and Stephanie Bitto entertained the audience during the intermission.

Janice Fultz, Sherry Quick, and Carole Reynolds are waiting to swim the act "Maria".

"Gigi" was swum by Lora Mosier and Kay Nicholson.

Mernell Bell and Cynthia Jones look over the layout for the water show.

Every year the Dolphins work for one big show, their annual water show. This year the name of the water show was "Lullaby of Broadway." It was based on song hits of Broadway. Among the selections that were used in the water show was "Love Makes the World Go Round," which is the theme from "Carnival;" "My Favorite Things" and "Maria" from the "Sound of Music;" "My Heart is so Full of You" from "Most Happy Fellow;" and "March of the Siamese Children" from "The King and I."

The Senior Dolphin this year was Sherry Quick. She has worked with the Dolphins for three years.

After the water show every year, the Dolphins begin clinic trying to improve their swimming and to get more girls in Dolphins.

TOP RIGHT: Audrey Young did a fine solo swimming to the music of "My Heart is so Full of You."

Drama Club Presents, "The Wall"

KNEELING:
 Bill Reedy the cripple
 Duncan MacDonald the sentry
 STANDING:
 Les Biffle the captain
 Glenda Kitchell .. the old woman
 Linda Carpenter the girl
 Jim Wood a sailor
 Ross Geyer old Zohar

The captain, Les Biffle, scoffs at the old woman's pleas for the life of her son to be spared.

The girl and old Zohar listen intently as the sailor, Jim Wood, tells of the ship that was carrying the bombs.

The art of crying is a delicate thing for an actor to handle. Glenda Kitchell did an admirable job in portraying the old woman.

"The Wall," as presented by Thespian Troupe 2247, was a play about a young boy who had been captured by the enemy and was to be shot. As the play opened, the boy's mother was sitting by the wall crying and longing to see her son. The old man, Zohar, tried to quiet her but did not succeed. Finally she decided to tell the sentry she will tell of a revolution that was being planned by the people. He took her to the general, but she did not talk. The final climax came as the boy was shot.

Linda Carpenter rejects the advances of the cripple, Bill Reedy, as Old Zohar, Ross Geyer, and the sentry, Duncan MacDonald, look on.

McLain Day is the annual celebration of General Raymond S. McLain. Every year loyal Scots appear at the school cafeteria early in the morning to have a McLain Day Breakfast. This year we had a guest speaker from Scotland plus the stage band playing some of our modern favorites. Following the breakfast, the day was begun by a flag raising ceremony broadcasted through the school over the P.A. system.

As the day progressed further, all the students attended a special McLain Day assembly which was to pay tribute to General McLain. During the assembly General Baker from the National Guard, presented us with General McLain's boots and uniform. Following the presentation of the boots and uniform, the winners of McLain Day essays were announced. Diane Noteware captured first place.

A luncheon was given in honor of the guest speakers, Student Council officers and committee chairmen. The entire day gave everyone a fresh awareness of the honor, loyalty, and determination of General Raymond S. McLain.

Students honor namesake on McLain Day

Students lined up in the wee small hours of the morning at the McLain Day breakfast which featured eggs, bacon, toast, rolls, milk and coffee. Mmmmmmm says Gary Buckmaster.

General Baker made the keynote address at the assembly.

How about chow Mr. Gibson?

Jim Ramsey gets ready to shell out his money for his food.

Sandra Cavitt, Tom Stamps, Lloyd DuBose waited in line for their breakfast. They didn't have to sing for it either.

The National Guard presented General McLain's boots and uniform as gifts to the school.

McLain students have some unusual interests

Three students of McLain who have unusual interests are Gary Buckmaster, Gary Blamires, and Donnie Knight.

Gary Buckmaster is a Karate brown belt and has been studying for nine months. The two pictures above show the flying snap kick, and the two pictures at the lower left demonstrate the full power of the art.

Gary Blamires' hobby took him on a cross-country trip from Washington to California. The purpose of this trip was to obtain a scholarship to the college of his choice.

Donnie Knight has spent several years as a professional jockey of quarter horses. He has won several races and a good deal of money in his hobby.

Kaleidoscopic expressions appear on Scot's faces.

CENTER: FACES OF INTEREST—Gail Karpuk and Iris Jones.

RIGHT CENTER: FACE OF AUTHORITY—Mr. Gibson helped Randy Redwine tuck in that ever-loose shirt tail.

TOP: FACES OF EAGERNESS—Tom Pickle waited eagerly for his senior ring while Stacy Bollwine checked Gary White's records.

CENTER: FACES OF DIFFERENCE—Steve Clark and LeNora Cotner.

LEFT: FACE OF ENTHUSIASM—Joe Welsch seemed filled with enthusiasm at the idea of writing a news story for school life.

TOP RIGHT: FACE OF EXHAUSTION—Work-outs in the hall exhausted Gary Moutray. (You Rang.)

CENTER: FACES OF ANTICIPATION—Ann Imperial and Carol Nelson gave their tickets for the Spring Fling to Mrs. Lambert and Coach Bowman.

RIGHT: FACES OF COMPANIONSHIP—Ronald Briggs and Johnny Cooper talked before school took up.

TOP LEFT: FACE OF CHARITY—M. Wike Turpen added his contribution to help "clean-up" Viet Nam.

TOP RIGHT: FACE OF JOY—Kay Dyer was overjoyed at meeting Santa Claus. We hope no one told her it was really Wally Gibson.

CENTER: FACES OF HUMOR—Richard Scullaw called for Doctor Kildare (Ronnie Brewer) as they prepared to operate on Eddie Plaster.

RIGHT: FACE OF INNOCENCE—Being surrounded by beautiful girls didn't seem to bother Scottie who cheered his team on to victory.

FACES OF HUNGER—Susan Woolbert checked to see if she had enough forks with which to eat.

FACES OF EXPECTATION—Arlene Williams and Linda Mitchell waited for rehearsal to start.

FACES OF TEAMWORK—Carol Todd, Velma Rittenhouse and Frankie Field helped with the Senior luncheon.

FACE OF WISDOM—Mr. Bob Wilson of Ohio demonstrated the playing of bagpipes at the awards assembly.

TOP LEFT: FACE OF SKILL—Sandi Cavitt prepared punch for the Sophomore Social.

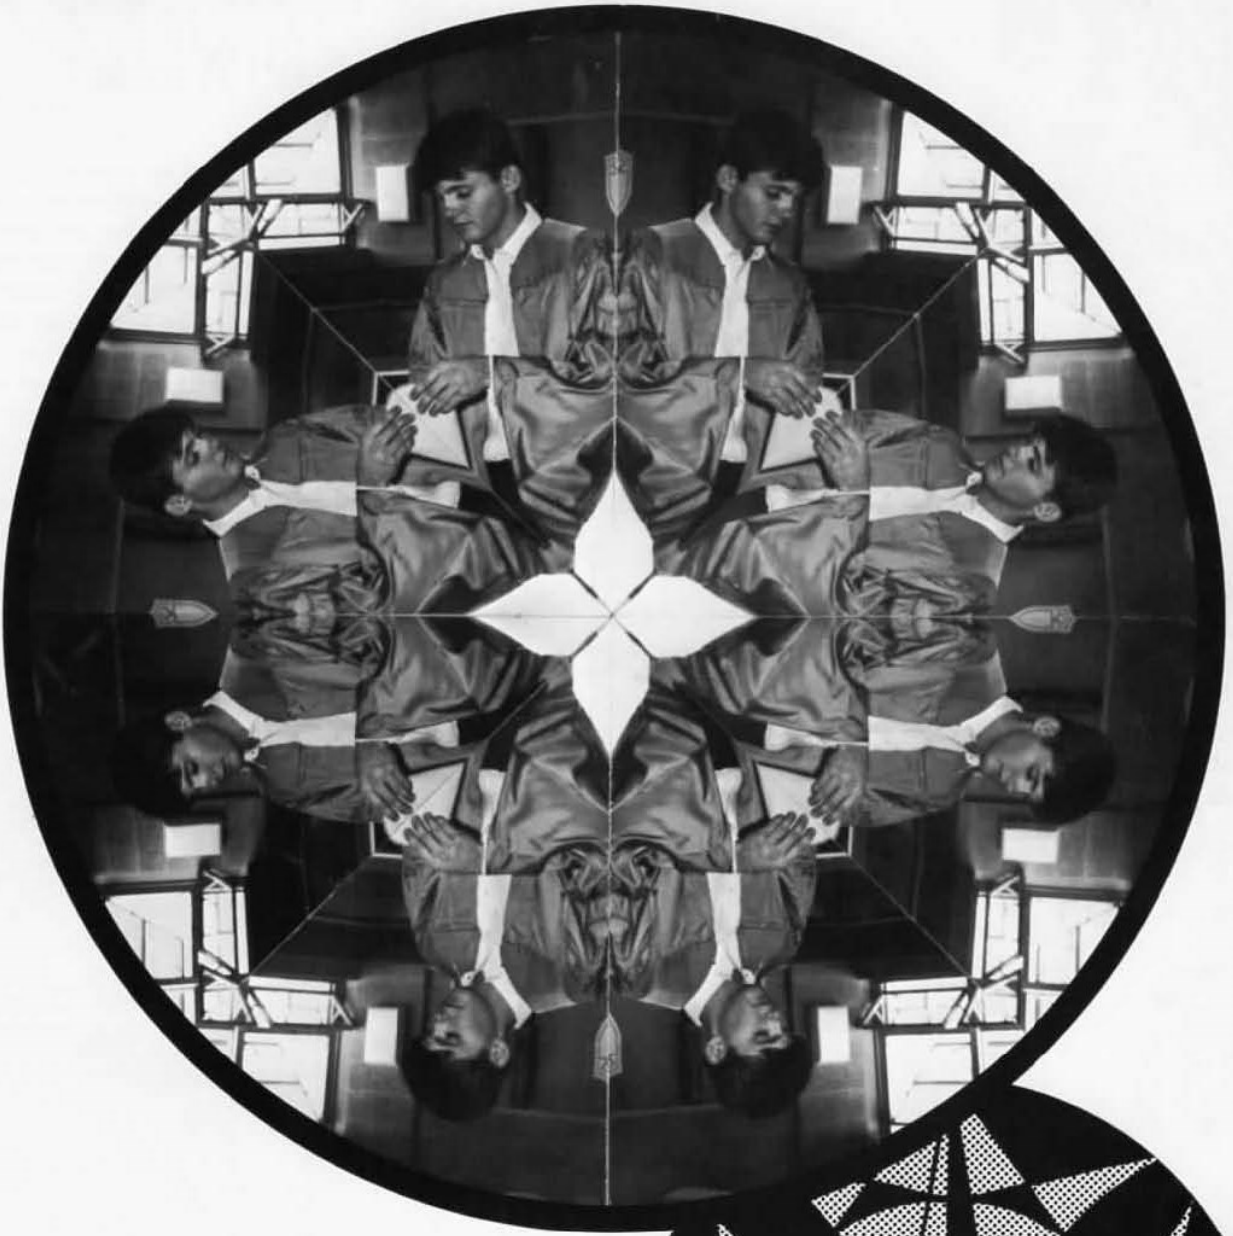

TOP RIGHT: FACES OF HAPPINESS—Pep assemblies were always a time of happiness and great fun.

CENTER: FACES OF VARIETY—A variety of expressions appeared on the faces of McLain Scots Deniece Moore and Randy Wasson.

LEFT: FACES OF INFORMATION—Sam Alverson and Judy Coursey spent many hours in preparing articles of information for the School Life.

BELOW: FACES OF WONDER—McLain students enjoyed looking over the decorated cars before school. Everyone wondered which homeroom would win. Mrs. Gray's homeroom won.

GRADUATION

Graduates enjoy Senior Week

"Another year has ended and we gently close the door
On all mistakes and failures to remember them no more;
The pleasures and successes? Well, they too are past and gone, So now we give attention to the new year coming on.
It is so fresh and spotless it inspires our truant mind to make some earnest pledges of the thoughtful, finer kind;
We purpose to be kinder to the people at our side, To judge them far less harshly when they seem to miss their stride; To work a little harder for the kind of world we need Where peace and brotherhood shall live in each ones thoughts and deeds; To keep our lives advancing in a steady, upward curve, To be a better partner of the God we claim to serve; To give ourselves more freely without thought of praise or blame, And do it all sincerely in the blessed Master's name. If we shall keep these pledges for the coming year or more, We shall be tall, much taller than we've ever been before."

The issuing of caps and gowns is a big moment for a senior. For Sharon Simmons (above) and Jim White (left) it is really a great feeling. Carol Hinkley (Junior) helped in giving out the gowns.

ABOVE: Gee, these rehearsals can really be tiring on the feet. At least Joel Kircher and Floy Elsie think so.

RIGHT: Carole Reynolds and Barbara Paxton seem glad that it is all over but Darlene McGuire is taking the rehearsal very seriously.

BELOW: Sorry, Bill Reedy, but you'll just have to give up your job as Senior Class President to junior Johnny Cavitt whether you want to or not.

As Willard Boone passes through the line, Donna Durkee and Doug Holloway wait patiently in line at the senior luncheon.

Having parted with her money for her meal, Marguerite Tyner is ready to dig in for some good eating.

The dignitaries of the senior class and McLain faculty enjoy the senior luncheon.

Luncheon and Dinner-Dance are big events

Tommy Goad and Jeani Garland were real happy with the prospects of the dance at the Elks Club of Tulsa.

Paula Lusby, Sandra Pridemore, and Janie Spriggs headed through the chow line at the Senior Luncheon.

James Gray, Russell Grayson, Sharon Jeffries, Flossie Davis and Claude Gordon waited in line to get their lunch of smothered steak and hot rolls.

Paula Lusby sung her version of, "If he needs me."

James Gray and Mernell Bell entered the Elks Club.

Wally Gibson and Faye Taylor danced to the music of Joe Linde.

Steve Morgan, Richard Sullivan, Curtis Fallgatter, Gary (Lurch) Moutray, Brent Turpen and Johnny Hayman line up at the bar for a "big orange drink".

Don Knight, Mary Waszut, Larry Hobbs, Randy Wasson and Jo Leach enjoyed the patio at the Elks.

Diane Terrell, Sherry Dale, Carolyn Miller and Marylin Williams wait for dinner to start.

Mrs. Rogers, Miss Robinson, Eileen Castaldi, Stephanie Bitto and Sharon Simmons wait in anticipation.

Gary Buckmaster, David Owen, Teresa Allen, Connie Greenwood and Steve Norris discuss the events of the evening.

Yvonne Yancey, Carmen Phillips, and Marcia Nicholas arrived for the long awaited senior dinner-dance.

THE TIME HAS COME TO CALL IT TO A CLOSE—SOME ARE GLAD, OTHERS ARE SAD.
