JUNE

2026

Editor's Note

Welcome to the June 2026 edition of the Cross Ocean Network Newsletter. Wishing you a happy summertime and thank you to all members who joined us at our recent networking lunch in Rotterdam – it was a great day and your presence made it a success.

Our next in-person event is in Houston on September 21, where we'll host a full day of one-to-one meetings and lunch at The Houston Club, right ahead of Breakbulk Americas. Limited to 32 companies, so register here if you haven't already.

Our next Zoom meetings with slots available will be held on August 12, 19, and 26, and September 2. Full details are on the zoom page of this newsletter. We take a break from newsletters and zoom meetings in July.

In member news this month we share movements related to: India, Vietnam → Taiwan, Vietnam → Europe, Nigeria → Niger, Shanghai → Oman, India → Middle East, Netherlands → Melbourne, Brazil, and more...

We also welcome Transworld Cargo as a new member representing South Africa.

Moving massive cargo across borders requires precision, power, and a logistics partner you can trust. Take a look at JBV Logistics's recent heavy haul operation! The JBV Logistics team successfully executed the complex transport of 88 units for a major mining project, including massive equipment with the largest unit weighing in at 42.8MT. Project Highlights: Route: Lagos Ports (Apapa and Tincan Island ports), Nigeria to Niamey, Niger Republic. Cargo: 88 total units (including a massive ERSEL cylinder, mobile screening units and 33 OOG units - Open Top and Flat Rack containers). Milestone: Safe, efficient movement from Lagos ports (Apapa and Tincan Island Ports) through the Kamba Frontier Border into Niger Republic and finally to Niamey.

When the job calls for lifting expectations, the STACKS team rises to the occasion. One of STACKS Africa's latest projects has the STACKS Africa team overseeing the cross-border transport of a crane by road a specialised movement where the work behind the scenes is just as important as the journey itself.

Total Movements Ships Six Gas Processing Units India to Middle East

Multimodal Movement of Heavy-Lift Gas Processing Units for one of the Middle East's Largest Gas Production Projects Total Movements successfully executed the door-to-port transportation of 6 Gas Processing Units (GPUs) totaling about 12,800cbm, including the heaviest unit weighing 1,400 MT, from the supplier's facility in India to the Middle East. The project involved deploying specialized axle configurations for cargo pick-up and transportation to the load-out jetty, followed by Roll-On operations onto 2 dedicated Deck Carrier Vessels, transportation via the river-sea route, and Roll-Off operations at the discharge port. Key features included handling ultra-heavy cargo, operating within critical tidal windows, ensuring vessel stability for the 1,400 MT unit, and securing cargo for safe sea transit. To overcome these challenges, Total Movements's team implemented customized axle configurations, detailed vessel load distribution analysis, precise tidal planning, and MWS-approved sea fastening calculations.

UTC recently completed the ocean freight of a 38,500 kg trenching unit from the Netherlands to Melbourne, Australia, shipped as a single oversized unit via RoRo. The move required precise planning, coordinated execution, and experienced oversight to ensure smooth handling at every stage. Delivered without disruption, it reflects a disciplined approach to managing high-weight, out-of-gauge cargo.

COLI Group Transports Yankee Dryer Cylinder 480 km to Port of Paranaguá

Ten days. 480 km. One shot at the vessel. That was the brief for COLI Shipping & Transport do Brasil's recent road transport of a Yankee dryer cylinder from Rio do Sul (Brazil) to the Port of Paranaguá, where the MV Grande Nigeria was reached just in time. The cylinder left little margin for error on Brazil's roads; riding at a transport height of 5.95 m, its dimensions are 86.6 tonnes, and nearly 6 metres in every direction.
