Journeys Packed with New Friends and Amazing Destinations

It's often said that travel isn't about the destination—it's about the journey. When you take an Alumni Travel tour, we think you'll agree it's about both. Because while the destination matters, the journey that unfolds once you arrive is just as special. How so?

Traveling with fellow Badgers means you're among people who share pride in UW–Madison and have a curiosity about the world. Those similar passions and interests regularly grow into friendships that become more cherished than any souvenir ever could.

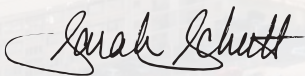

Then there's the world of experiences that open up to you throughout your tour, from cultural enrichment to scenic marvels. You'll find yourself immersed in one memorable moment after the next. And in 2027, with a luxury tour of Antarctica on the schedule, you can choose from all seven continents to explore.

Whether you're an intrepid adventurer, a cultural enthusiast, or a relaxed wanderer, our trips offer multiple travel styles tailored to your preferences, including ocean cruises, river cruises, land tours, and rail journeys.

And since we're affiliated with the University of Wisconsin–Madison, insightful and educational content is woven into every itinerary and led by experts who deepen your understanding of the places we visit.

Finally, when it comes to logistics, let our trusted travel partners handle every detail. They can even assist you in booking flights and making transfer arrangements, organizing pre- and post-tour itineraries, and working with you on any special requests.

So, I invite you to embark on an Alumni Travel tour in 2027, where the journey and destination combine for discovery, connection, and growth. Book your adventure now!
