Fabric Collars

MDS collars are made using three different types of inner linings. The outer lining is for stiffness, the middle is for strength and durability and the inside layer provides comfort (the part that touches the neck). The cotton used is soft yet strong. The linen is a finer weave, it is made for your comfort and care in mind. Fabric collars last longer than the painful pesky plastic collars and are machine washable. MDS Collars are manufactured to the highest standard. 100% Customer satisfaction guaranteed!

Collars can be machine or hand washed. To remove sweat marks, scrub the neckline with soapy water before washing. ( for best results use an old toothbrush.) Iron when damp for best results. Iron the back of the collar first then the front. Once ironed, fold the collar in half from one end to the other (folded) and rub the whole collar against the knee, it will instantly form a perfect shape.

Altar Linens and Amice

Modern linens, polyesters and other blends are highly processed making them strong but reduces absorption. Mass Linens need natural softness and absorbency, that is why MDS calls their special cotton a linen weave, the yarns are less processed for better absorbency while retaining natural strength.
