JOURNEYING TOGETHER THROUGH THE BIBLICAL FOUNDATIONS OF RECOVERY

As seen on National TV,
Radio and in the press

What is the Exodus Project?

Bishop Mick and Pastor Emma have developed a groundbreaking recovery programme called 'The Exodus Project'.

The Exodus Project has been born out of their 25 years experience of addiction, mental health, recovery, and Christian faith journeys. The Exodus Project is part of Church on the Street's Recovery Academy – for more information please visit the Recovery Academy page on our website.

The Exodus Project is based upon the biblical foundations for recovery. The biblical foundations are sourced from Matthew 5-7, the Sermon on the Mount. The aim of the Exodus Project is to show people, of all backgrounds, that Jesus Christ is the answer to addiction and the consequences of trauma.

The project is designed for a cohort of 12 students to journey together for three days a week over a 12 week period and participate in learning the teachings of the Exodus from the bible, get involved in church service, group sessions and community activities. All of which will deepen their faith and personal relationship with Jesus Christ.

After graduating from the Exodus Project students will be supported through volunteering opportunities, recovery groups, one-to-one support, education, training, employment, and being part of the wider Church on the Street community.

International statistics show that long term recovery runs at around 3%. From those who have completed the Exodus Project recovery rates are currently running at 50%.

The Eight Disciplines

A one to one or small group programme of the Exodus Project

As a result of the success and growing demand for the Exodus Programme, we have developed the One-to-One and Small Group Exodus model, centred around the Eight Disciplines of Recovery.

Built upon the strong foundations of the group programme, this approach has demonstrated consistently positive outcomes in supporting long-term recovery.

The One-to-One programme is designed to be delivered within a mentor-mentee relationship, providing a supportive therapeutic environment.

The small group version allows for churches and other groups to access the programme and explore the process of developing the eight disciplines together. This is ideal for a church home group programme to cover over eight to ten weeks.

Its strength lies in the depth and flexibility of bespoke, tailored work, allowing each individual's unique needs, challenges, and goals to be addressed with care and precision.

The package includes 10 handbooks and a facilitators manual and three supervisions over three months.
