Pi DAY Celebration

Sunday, March 13, 2022

National Pi Day, March 14th, is a world wide celebration of the mathematical constant Pi (π). Often approximated to 3.14, Pi (π) is the ratio of a circle's circumference to its diameter. Pi is a number that appears everywhere in our daily life -- from construction, communications, and music theory to medical procedures, air travel and space flight. It's encoded into everything from a zebra's stripes to a leopard's spots.

The iSPACE Pi DAY Scavenger Hunt helps family and adult teams better understand the connection between STEM and daily life - - all in a fun and engaging way.

Scavenger Hunt

Each team will be given a set of clues that direct them to local businesses. At each stop, teams will have a STEM based mission to complete.

As teams complete their tasks, they will be awarded points. The highest earning teams in the family and adult categories will win prize money.

The scavenger hunt will culminate in a celebration at the NEWLY opened iSPACE facility. Food and beverages will be available, as well as silent auction and PIE raffle.
