A DECADE OF PURPOSE

You're a real neat person with a great
 pa. I really haven't known ya long, but it was a treat being
 S.H. with ya! Stay
 your groovy self always!
 Marsha

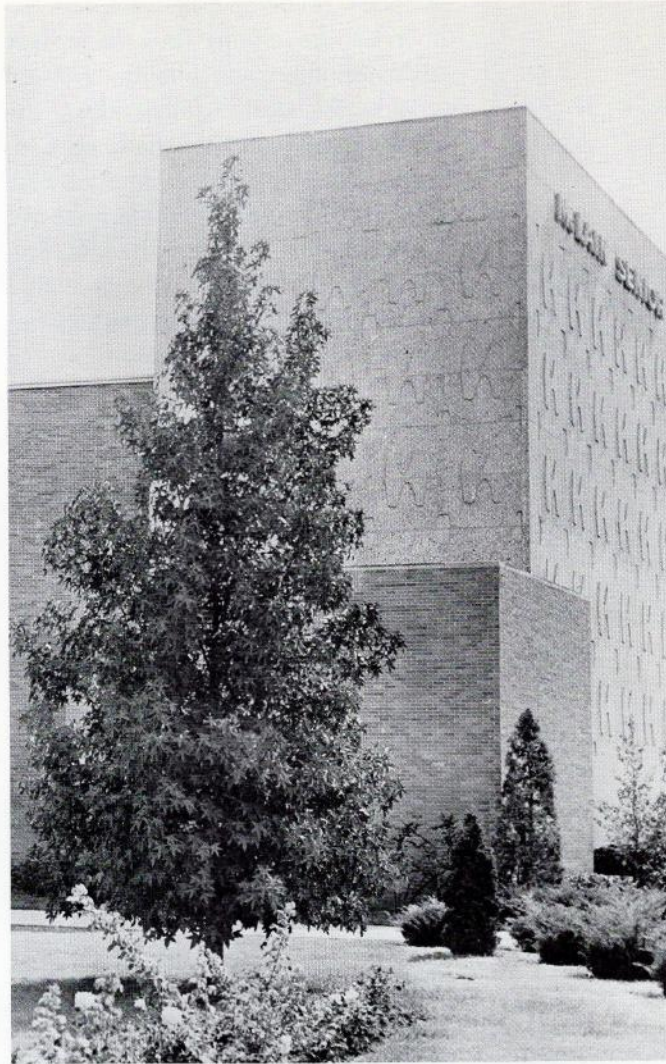

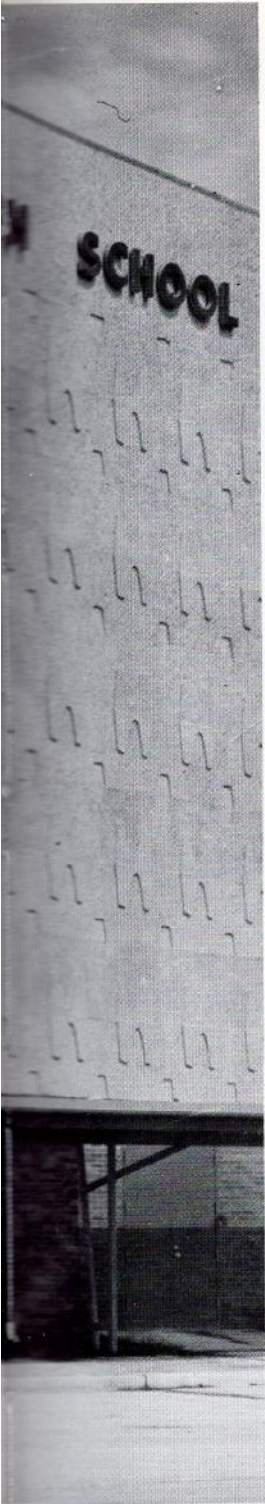

The contrast that a decade of change has wrought is dramatized here as McLain High School is portrayed at its barren beginning, above, and at its flowering present, above right.

Each day hundreds of students enter these doors to begin another phase of their learning at McLain. They become better prepared for life as they enter and traverse these halls of learning for three years.

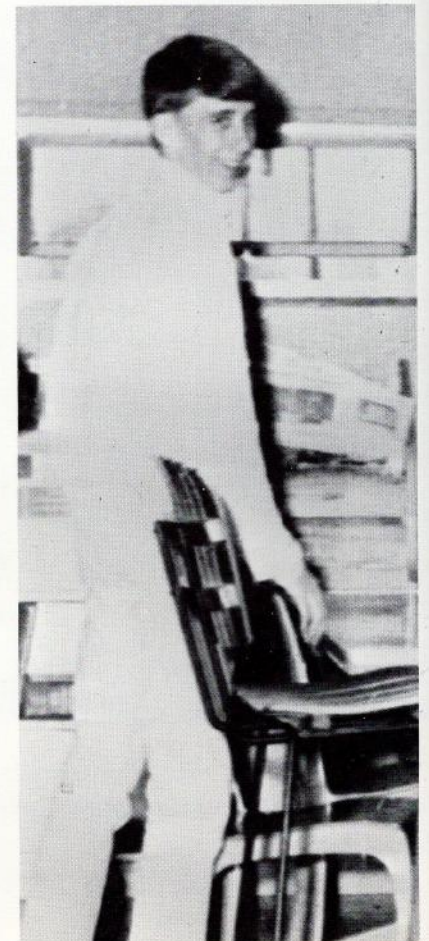

We grow to love and appreciate the fond memories that we make for ourselves and the activities that we have participated in.

We will look back on our years at McLain with appreciation and fond memories for our advantages and accomplishments, as we strive to better prepare ourselves to accomplish our purposes throughout our lives.

Desks without students, books without readers, halls without activity—these things by themselves lack definition and vitality. Without vitality the desks gather dust, the books decay, and the halls echo silence; their objective is obscured; they become useless without people.

People make life worthwhile. Students create goals—a desire within themselves and others to better themselves—to accomplish and to gain purpose.

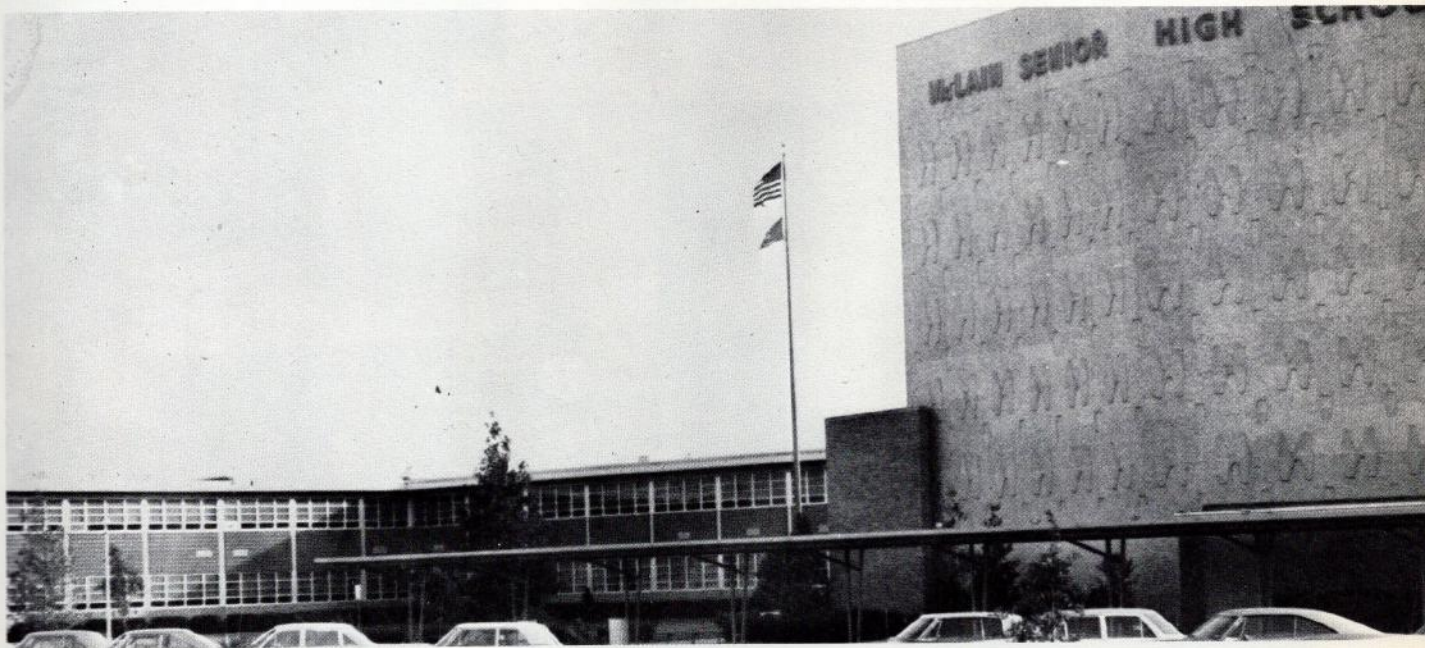

We as Scots are proud to inherit a rich background, having been a part of McLain. We are heir to a singleness of purpose united by the Fighting Scot Spirit. We have set for ourselves high goals and a desire to accomplish them. We are discovering our purpose in life . . . The tradition of McLain's heritage has become . . . A DECADE OF PURPOSE.

Tulsa Board of Education

The Tulsa Board of Education has a purpose in their tremendous responsibility of supervising the education of Tulsa's youth.

They play a key role in the purpose of McLain and in turn affect our purpose as students.

Many times members of the Board have helped to further our education by making changes as the need arises so that we may continue in our desire to fulfill our purpose.

Principal's Message to the Students

Someone once said, "Traditions can become the shackles of a man's soul." This is certainly true unless wisdom and prudence are practiced. Tradition can, however, be a most valuable asset, particularly concerning a school.

I have been happily associated with McLain since its beginning in 1959 and through these ten years I have seen traditions instill in the hearts of our students characteristics such as pride, spirit, determination, courage, and honor.

I think it is appropriate to mention the people who are mostly responsible for establishing and carrying on these great traditions.

The first would be Carl McCafferty, McLain's first principal. To him goes a great deal of credit for McLain being the great school that it is today. Next would be Kenneth Bays, Mr. McCafferty's successor, who so ably carried on the original traditions and was also responsible for the beginning of others which are still very evident today.

There are many other staff members who are responsible for worthy contributions through the years, but they are too numerous to mention here. There are a few, however, who must be recognized and commended—those who have given so much of themselves. They are the ones who, along with me, started with McLain in 1959 and are still here as faithful, loyal, and dedicated colleagues. I respectfully mention Mrs. Chisroe, Miss Harper, Mr. Lack, Mrs. McClure, Mr. Shoulders, Mr. Stokes, Mr. Tilley, and Mrs. Whitsett. There are not many of us left but there is a wealth of service and devotion to hundreds of young McLain Scots, which we trust will last throughout eternity.

Seniors climb to lofty heights.

Juniors, are you with us? ... Huh?

Sophomores are always on the defensive.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council

Student Council began an active year selling football ads during the summer for the program which they sold at all home football games. Then preparations for the selection of Miss McLain began. This year the traditional car decoration contest was replaced with a float which was constructed by the student body.

The Council's next project was a different idea for Christmas. This year, the council sponsored a homeroom can good drive which brought in over 350 cans which were distributed to needy families.

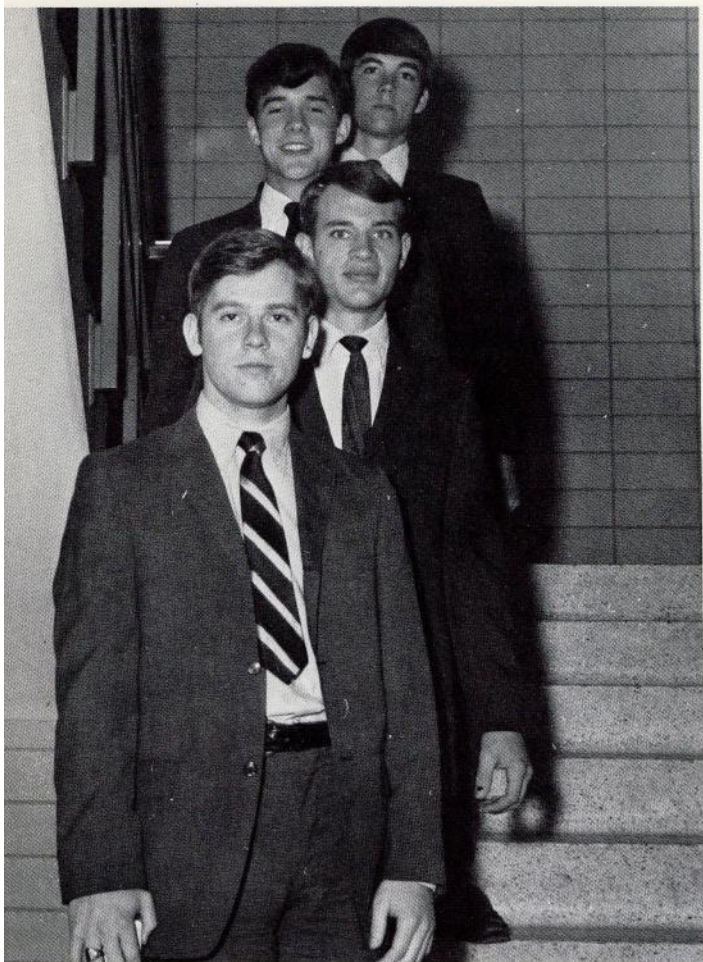

A very successful McLain Day and dance was the organization's next activity. The group is sponsored this year by Mr. Shannon.

Karen Pilgrim as Lili, and Buster Mattix as Paul had the leads in this musical.

"Well, we girls at the convent, well, we never!" ... says Sandy Mathews as Rosalie.

Karen Pilgrim charmed the whole carnival cast in her act with the puppets.

"And now would you like to try the swords, dear," challenges Marco the Magnificent.

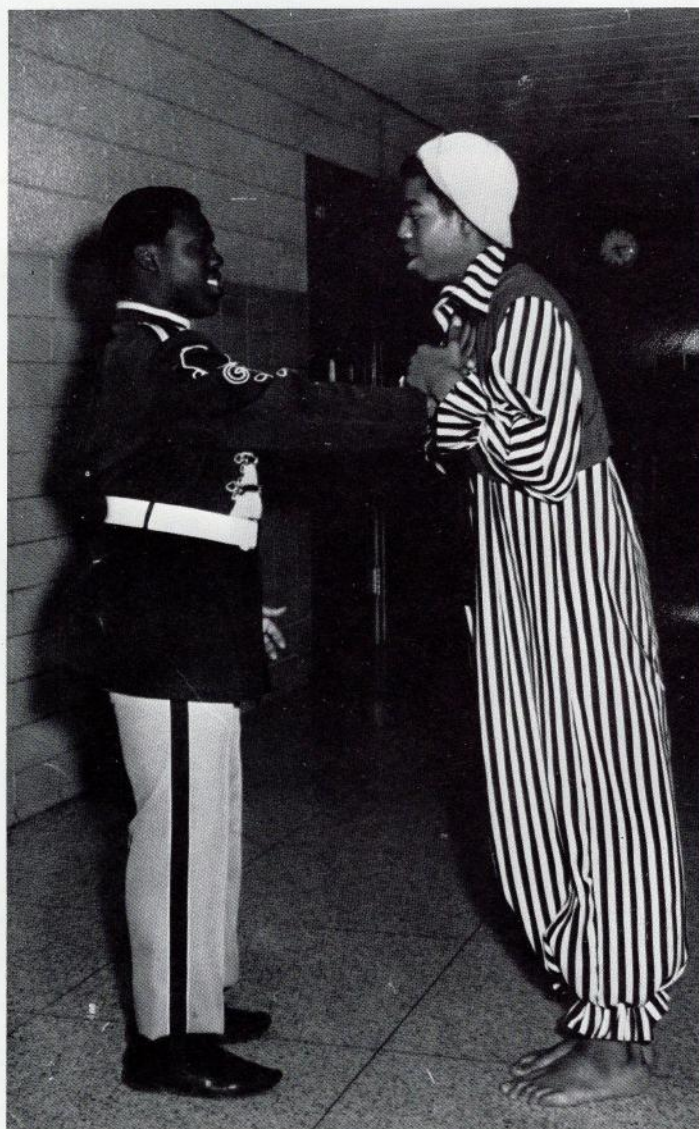

Paul frequently lashed out at Jacquot whenever he tried to help. Rick NeSmith played Jacquot.

Rosalie was constantly telling Marco to keep his hands off of Princess Olga. She was played by Pat Fowler.

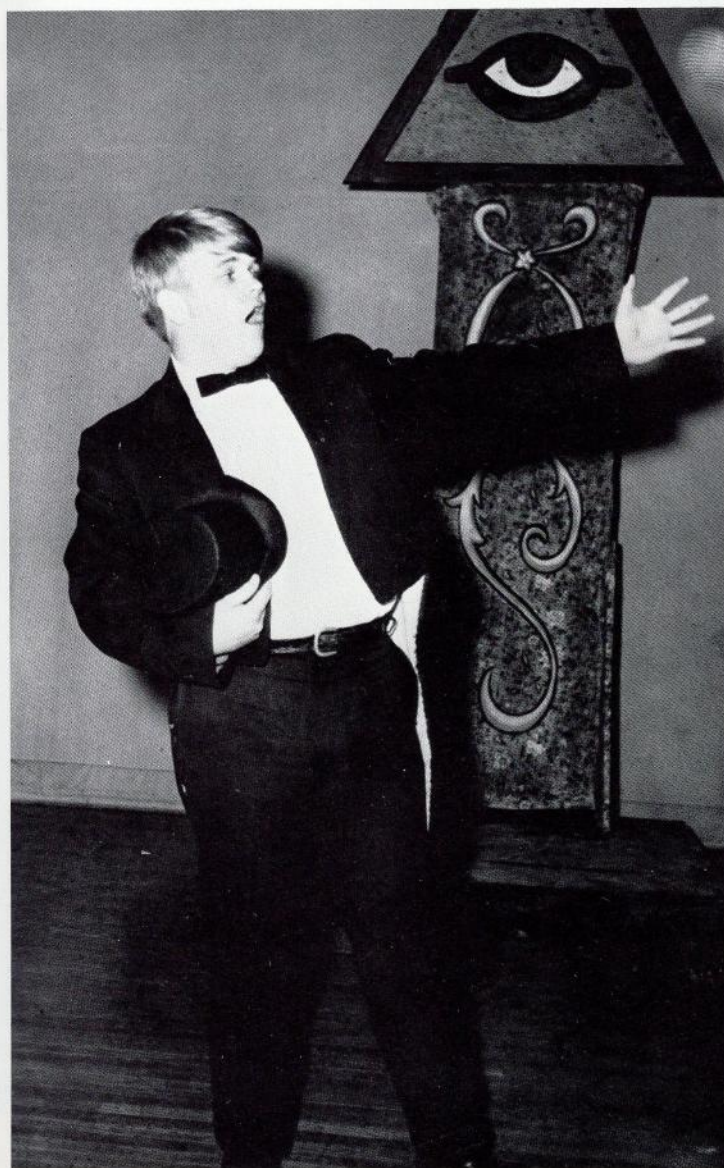

Ben Hill and Rick NeSmith did the choreography and dancing in one of the numbers.

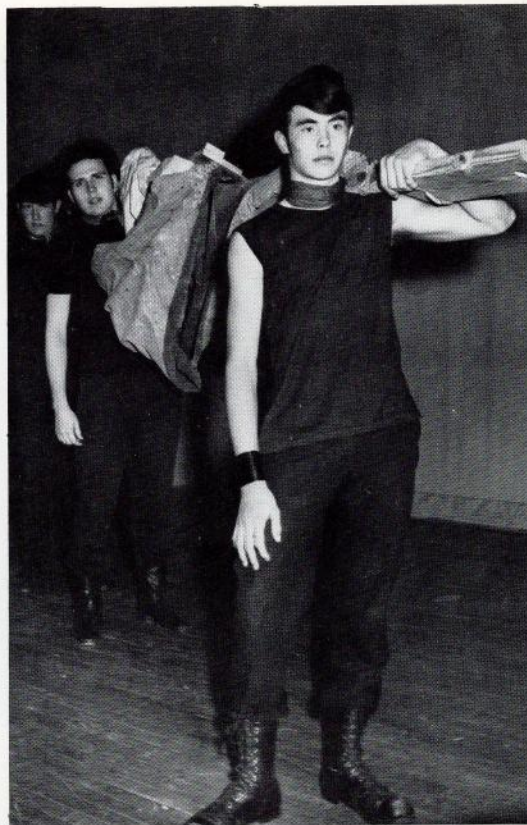

A little "clowning around" backstage boys?

The harem girls, clowns, and Bluebird girls all helped to make this a very successful musical.

B. F. Schlegel worked and tried, but where did it get him? He was portrayed

The roustabouts were Bill Sparks, Paul Hart, and Steve Matthews. These boys had to double as stage crew and actors.

The student directors were: Deena Hamilton (rehearsal music) Daniel Sue, (magic, props and, tricks), Johnna Dickenson, (Costumes) and Joe Wiles, (coordination of performance).

Kaleidoscope Of Color

White, the symbol of purity, was swum as a solo by Mary Smith.

Purple, a color of royalty, was illustrated in a kingly water ballet swum by Linda Griffith, Martha Smotts, Mary Smith, June Clee, and B. J. Heatly.

Nina Young, Nancy Franklin, Carol Lambert, and Karen Carpenter portrayed the ability of children to stay dirty. This was the theme of grey.

Martha Smotts and Linda Griffith swam in this act, emphasizing that love is blue.

Envy and jealousy, characteristic of green, were demonstrated by June Hill, Karen Carpenter, and Valaire O'Neal.

Thespians Present: "Balcony Scene"

Robert Templin cries out at his funeral because nobody really understood him while he was alive, and even less after he died.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

Robert Templin Joe Wiles
Friend David Byers
Claire Leona Clark
Wife Barbara Reel
Husband James Vance
Mother Charlene Sager
Daughter Geneva Biffle
Gangster Ben Hill

Robert and his spiritual friend listen to the many comments about Robert after his death.

The Thespians have really been busy this year, beginning many new traditions that Thespians to come will follow.

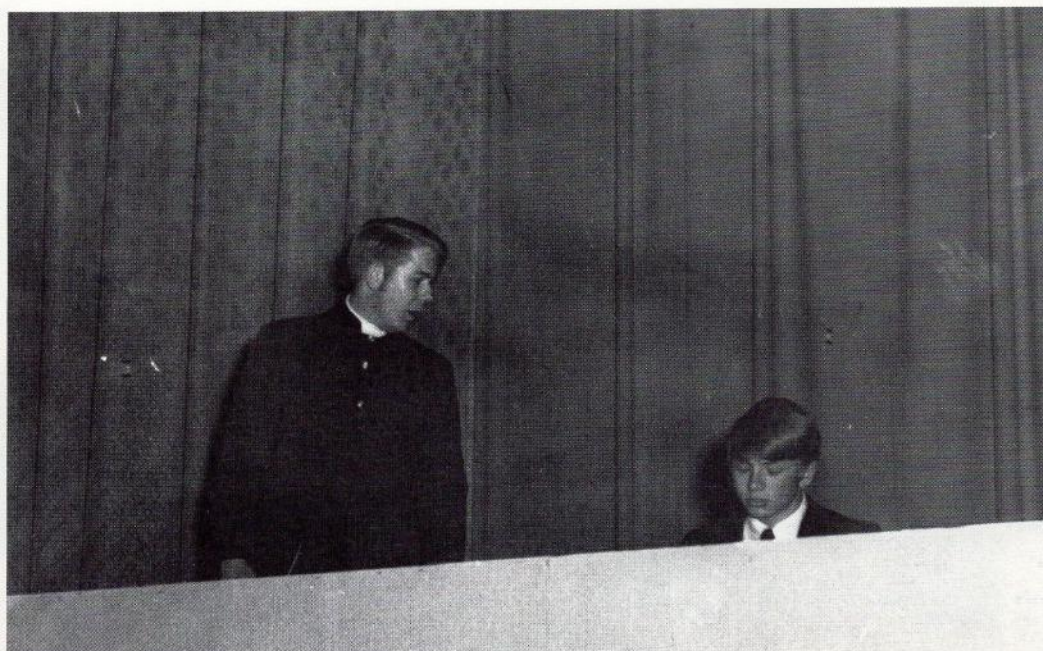

At the beginning of the year, they started a fund raising drive by selling stationery and cards. This gave them money to buy make-up for all productions this year. The Thespians were responsible for putting on make-up for all of the plays, the water show, and the musical.

During the run of "Ten Little Indians" at the Tulsa Little Theater, the Thespians worked at the concession stand.

The end of the year brought the production of the Thespian play, "Balcony Scene" with Joe Wiles, David Byers, and Leona Clark capturing the leads. They also did their part at Christmas with the production of "Mary Christmas," which was written and directed by Mrs. Cora MacDonald, Thespian sponsor. McLain will greatly remember the Thespians of 1968-1969.

Robert Templin, played by Joe Wiles, can only look on sadly while his girl-friend cries for him at his funeral.

Robert's friend, who was played by David Byers, tells him of the kind of life he must get used to after his death.

Mr. Hagedorn, the teacher, the cop, the coach, the lawyer, and speaker.

McLain Day

McLain Day was held March 28, in order to celebrate the birthday of Raymond Stallings McLain. On the tenth anniversary the Scots showed special respect to the man who served his country. The day began with a breakfast. The guest speaker was Frank Hagedorn, a former teacher at McLain. A special assembly honoring General McLain made the Scots realize the importance of their school's namesake. The guest speaker was Mr. Max Stratton. Later a McLain Day dance was held.

Ronnie Carter presides over the McLain Day Breakfast.

Mr. Max Stratton delivers his speech.

Audrey and Tony don't live on love alone.

What's in that drink Diane?

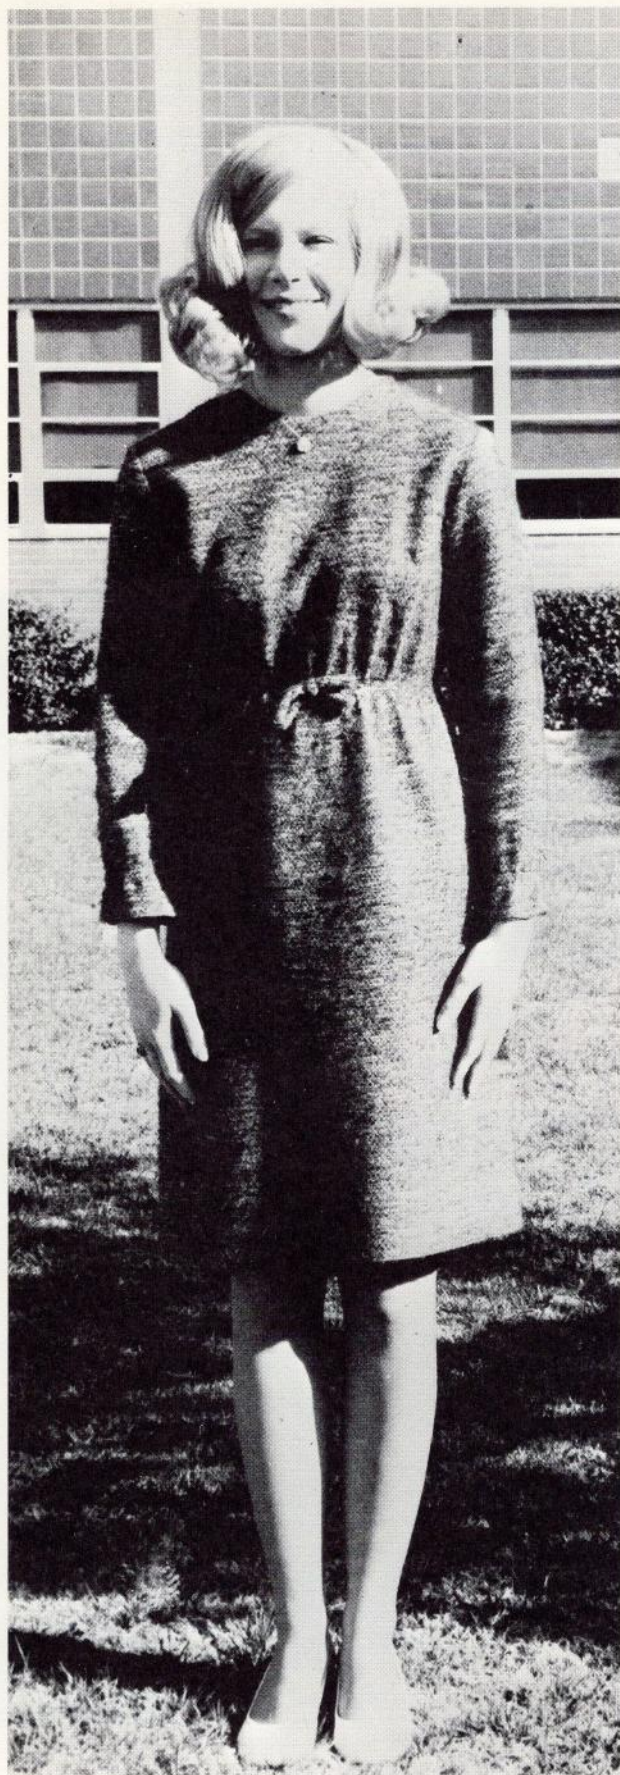

The band at the McLain Day Dance was the Coachmen.

How could I ever begin to express the joy, the pride, and the true honor I have felt during my reign as Miss McLain X. You have given me the most wonderful and rewarding year of my life. I strove to meet the challenge and ideals that are placed upon a Miss McLain, realizing too, that they were the highest and most difficult to achieve. I only hope I have fulfilled them in a way that upheld and justly represented the truly dedicated student body which gives the glow of life to the proud name of McLain High School. So many times I have almost pinched myself, wondering whether I was dreaming. I think every girl at one time in her life secretly dreams of becoming a queen one day. You have actually made the dream come true for me. I am deeply grateful to all of you for giving me the title of Miss McLain X.

Jo Stephenson
