LORA DICARLO

Since being founded in 2017, Lora DiCarlo quickly found success and international attention after receiving a coveted Robotics Innovation award from the Consumer Technology Association. When the award was rescinded, a critical public conversation about gender equity in tech was initiated. Lora DiCarlo has continued to champion the cause of women's sexual health, by inventing toys that use microrobotics for a more human touch than any other toy on the market.

REMOTE CONTROL

I'm sure many of you reading this own a sex toy or two already, if not - What's holding you back? But how many of you have tried the New Big Thing?... Remote Controlled Sex Toys!

Remote toys have been around for a while, starting with the simple egg or bullet attached to the remote by a longish wire, but with technology moving in leaps and bounds we now have toys with remotes and apps for distance play, allowing your partner to be in another room, another town or even another country, yes I said another country. With the development of app controlled toys you can connect with your partner and be even more intimate than ever before when you are separated.

“ Remote-Control toys have changed the face of solo and partnered play and introduced the world to entirely new ways to engage sexually”
XbizPremiere Article May 2020

The possibilities are endless with this new generation of toys literally at our fingertips. For solo or partnered play at home remote toys allow for easier changing of settings without interrupting the fun. The remote removes the need to reach down and find the buttons (which will most likely be slippery and hard to find), especially for some of those more tricky positions. With your partner at the controls they can tease and tantalize to theirs and your delight. Even tormenting you if they wish just by the press of a button or sweep of a finger. Not knowing what's coming next is half the fun when it comes to these types of toys.

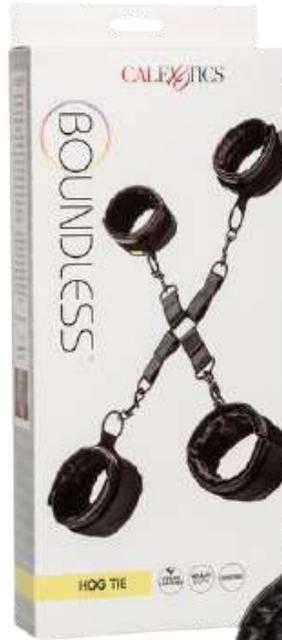

One of the big turn on's in my opinion is the option of using your remote toy out in public, that inconspicuous play where you and your partner are the only ones in on the secret.

Date Night, grocery shopping, dinner with the inlaws will never be the same again!

How Do I Extend The Life Of My Sex Toys?

If your spicing things up in the bedroom sex toys are great, but the most important part of playing with sex toys is taking proper care of them, so you can use them time and time again.

Investing in good quality well known brands can be reliable, affordable and even last years compared to an extremely cheap sex toy from a retailer with no reputation, you may find they give out very quickly, cause irritations or worse. To minimize the risk and growth of bacteria it is important to be as hygienic as possible when caring for your sex toys, be sure to clean them prior and after each use with gentle antibacterial soap, warm water or a body safe sex toy cleaner.

Sex toys that aren't waterproof should not be submerged during washing, batteries need to be removed prior to cleaning and take extra caution when cleaning sex toys attached to a cord.

Taking extra care for your sex toys is the key to extending it's life expectancy, remove batteries between uses, as leaving them in can decrease the lifespan of the motor, don't leave a rechargeable sex toy plugged in longer then it needs to be, last but most important keep your sex toys hygienically clean.

Made in New Zealand from quality imported ingredients, Herbal Bona is a daily dietary supplement – scientifically developed to support men's sexual performance, libido, stamina and erectile function.

SO, WE WROTE SOME PORN

In Partnership with nautiNZ

What happens when you get 30-non writers together to write a collaborative erotic novel?

A hilarious and saucy sh*t show filled with bizarre twists and turns from cover to cover.

30 people from around the globe, including world famous drag queens, esteemed musicians, family and friends from all races, religious backgrounds and sexual orientations.

None of the writers know exactly what has happened, or what will happen until it's their turn to steer the story. Once their chapter is complete it's sent to a middle man who then breaks down each chapter into important points and then fires the information to the next writer. And so the chain continues.

Follow the project on social media for updates on our progress.

At the end of the writing phase the 30 chapter novel will then be read out live in a podcast where Courtney and two of her friends will dissect it with their cutting wit.
