WHAT IS BOUDOIR PHOTOGRAPHY?

Boudoir photography has been a form of art since literally the invention of cameras. But still confusion persists around the topic, so I wanted to take a moment to dispel some myths and tell you exactly what boudoir photography is. In short: it's a series of tasteful, artful sensual images — usually of a woman (boudoir), but sometimes of a couple (duo) or even a man (dudoir).

Different forms of boudoir photography exist both in terms of style/approach and level of nudity. As is the case with any photography, it's important to seek a photographer whose style matches with your personal aesthetic. For example, some specialize in high contrast black and whites, others prefer a moody editing style, and some take a bright light and color-dense approach.

Most boudoir photographers leave it to the client to decide how much skin is exposed during the session. Some clients are OK baring all, and the images are shot in a way that's creative, classy, and genuinely artful. Other clients prefer to do a lingerie session which can be just as provocative and sensual. Others yet prefer to go a flirty, less exposed route — maybe they wear an oversized sweater, a sport's jersey, or a partner's shirt. Boudoir photography runs the gamut and creating a customized experience with your photographer is part of the fun!

WHY SHOULD I TAKE BOUDOIR PHOTOS?

There are so many reasons why my clients choose to do a boudoir session, but my favorite is to channel their inner badass beauty. Clients have used boudoir for empowerment, as a gift to their Sig Other, and as a gift to themselves. Boudoir is a way for you to capture the badass beauty inside, to share or keep all to yourself.

CAN PLUS-SIZED LADIES DO BOUDOIR?

We love curves! Rest assured any stereotypes won't factor into anything going on here! You can rock a session exactly who you are! We are here to help you achieve whatever goal you set for yourself.

DO I HAVE TO BE NUDE FOR BOUDOIR PHOTOS?

Absolutely NOT! We will discuss how comfortable you are and what you want to achieve. You will only reveal as much or little as you want. Sometimes there is magic in what you DON'T show :)

WHERE CAN MY BOUDOIR PHOTOS BE TAKEN?

I am always scouting for the dreamiest locations for my clients and rent out the space so we have it all to ourselves. Sometimes I will find a hotel room that has a heavy theme or vibe, I will then plan an event in that location. I also always ask my clients for a Pinterest board or any inspirations they may have in mind so I can find a space that reflects their vision. The location will change based on the city I'm shooting in, but it's always an intimate space with lots of light and interesting decor to make the backdrop of your photos almost as gorgeous as you. There are some very special locations I have available to me that are Victorian era bedroom settings, I have an extensive wardrobe available for very theme specific shoots as well at this location.
